Crowd Cheers De Gaulle On His Arrival in Algiers For Parleys With Rebels

U.S. Studies Trade Boost With Russia

Khrushchev Makes Direct Bid in Another Letter to Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States began looking into the possibility of increased trade with the Soviet Union today on the basis of a direct bid from Premier Khrushchev to President Eisenhower.

The issue of Western trade policy toward the Soviet Union seems likely to come up in top-level U.S.-German and U.S.-British policy talks in the next few days.

Visiting President

President Theodor Heuss of West Germany and Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano began a visit today with Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles. British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will hold two days of conferences here beginning Monday.

The latest Khrushchev letter possibly was timed with those meetings in mind. The State Department announced only that "the subject matter concerns trade relations between Russia and the United States."

But it was learned that Khrushchev put before the President his announced desire to obtain large amounts of equipment for increasing Soviet industrial capacity for the manufacture of synthetic materials and plastics.

Strategic Goods Banned

Officials said that Khrushchev probably would have no difficulty in buying in this or other Western industrial countries any machinery not barred from trade with the Soviet Union. But the Allies maintain a list of goods denied to Soviet commerce because, in the view of Western governments, they would increase Soviet military strength.

The definition of what industrial equipment would contribute to Soviet war poential, however, is a controversial problem among the Western powers. And Khrushchev's letter coupled with a long-time Moscow campaign against the strategic trade control system may very well stir the controversy afresh.

DE GAULLE ARRIVES IN ALGIERS. French Premier Charles de Gaulle, in the full uniform of a general, salutes as he steps from the plane on arrival in Algiers today. At right is his aide, Col. Bid for Unity Launched by War Leader

Insurgent Colonists Greet General With Tumultuous Welcome

ALGIERS (AP) — Premier De Gaulle landed in Algeria today for a fateful meeting with the French insurgents who seized control of the vast North African territory.

A tumultuous hero's welcome awaited the World War II leader brought back to power by the insurgency of French colonists and military chief in Algeria.

Waiting beside the runway were Gen. Raoul Salan, the top insurgent commander, and all the other leading military men and civilians of the Public Safety Committee now ruling Algeria.

Wears General's Uniform

Dressed in his general's uniform, the usually grim De Gaulle beamed as he stepped from the 500-mile-an-hour jetliner.

Tremendous cheers went up from the huge crowd, which broke through police lines at several points. However, the crowds were quickly pushed back.

The airport ceremonies lasted less than 15 minutes. Then De Gaulle and Salan entered a car and sped into the city.

The general carried with him France's hopes that he can reunite the rebellious French in Algeria with the motherland and also that he can make a start toward settling the costly, bloody Moslem war for independence.

Underneath the hero's welcome was a wide band of uncertainty about the new Premier's program for ending the rebellion carried on for nearly four years by Moslem nationalists.

Leading Questions

These questions are paramount:

Will he try to settle the problem by more liberal policies toward the Moslems?

If he proposes "integration" — of French and Moslems — politically, socially and economically — how far will he go?

How can he reconcile the aspirations of nearly nine million Moslems with the deep-rooted interests and emotions of 1½ million Frenchmen, who from the first have insisted Algeria is French?

In short, the word "integration" bristles with almost as many problems here and with some of the same emotional overtones as it does in the Southern parts of the United States.

No one in Algiers apparently knows the answers to these questions.

As far as you can determine, not one of the officials in the military-civilian revolutionary regime here has the slightest inkling of what is in De Gaulle's mind.

And how do the Moslems regard the immediate outlook?

There has been a great surface effusion of Moslem and French amity since May 13. Arabs and Berbers participated in regular nightly demonstrations in the white marble forum in front of the government headquarters hailing De Gaulle and the local revolutionary group.

Data Studied In Successful Test of Atlas

Air Force Conducts First ICBM Firing in Two-Month Period

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Air Force continued collecting telemetry data today on the successful performance of its latest Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile.

The huge missile, this nation's only intercontinental weapon to reach the test stage, roared into the late afternoon sun Tuesday on what appeared to be a beautiful start.

Analysis of the shoot will help Atlas technicians prepare for the first intercontinental-range flight which is expected within the next two months.

The success of Tuesday's launching came after a series of disappointments which were climaxed last Thursday when a firing was halted at the last split second because of minor technical difficulties.

It was the first Atlas launching in two months. The rocket seemed to behave perfectly.

The test, eighth in the series,

Brown Outpolls Knowland

Democrats Show California Power

By The Associated Press

A strong shift toward the Democrats in the California primary gave Edmund G. (Pat) Brown a growing popular vote margin today over Sen. William F. Knowland in their contests for gubernatorial nominations.

Each easily won his party's nomination. Because each cross-filed on the opposition ticket, the election provided a test of general support that markedly favored Brown, the Democratic attorney general.

Vote Total Unprecedented

The Senate Republican leader's home county, Alameda, even gave Brown a substantial popular vote margin. The 53-year-old Brown's two-party vote total throughout the state was unprecedented in a governorship race.

Returns from almost half of California's 26,363 precincts showed Brown's total vote from both Republicans and Democrats was 774,023; Knowland's was 496,689.

Democrats outnumber Republicans 7-5 in California registrations.

Would Have Edge

Although each won in his own primary, the results bore out Democratic claims that Brown would have a decided edge in the over-all vote. But Knowland, who is giving up his role of Senate Republican leader to seek the governorship, called it "just the opening skirmish."

On other primary fronts Tuesday:

1. Retiring Gov. Goodwin Knight defeated Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco in a relatively close race for the Republican senatorial nomination in California. Returns from a third of the state's 26,343 precincts gave Knight 194,890 votes, Christopher 151,923.

WILLIAM F. KNOWLAND
He'll Seek Governorship in Fall

EDMUND G. BROWN
Picks Up Republican Votes, Too

The Democratic nomination went to Rep. Clair Engle, who had no opposition from within his party. Engle's vote total for both primaries under the cross-filing system far surpassed that of Knight.

2. State Atty. Gen. John Patterson won the Democratic nomination for governor in Alabama in a runoff primary with Circuit Judge George C. Wallace, Nearly complete returns gave Patterson, 36, the leader in last month's original primary, 304,080 votes to 239,529 for Wallace. The nomination means virtual victory in Democrat-dominated Alabama.

3. Sen. Mike Mansfield, assistant majority leader in the Senate, staked out an early lead in Montana in his bid for Democratic renomination Mansfield held a 6-1 lead over John Nickey and Thomas G. Stimatz in slight returns and seemed assured of overwhelming victory.

Fire Sweeps Hotel Suite At Columbus

Man Killed; Several Led to Safety From Blaze in Neil House

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fire roared through a seventh-floor suite at a large downtown hotel here early today, killing one resident and forcing other guests to take to window ledges.

The fire department identified the victim as Joe Lewis, 63, proprietor of a Columbus flower shop who made his home at the hotel—the Neil House.

Several Led to Safety

Firemen said they led several guests to safety, including some who had taken to window ledges when the flames began licking through the windows of Lewis' two-room suite. Several guests had to be awakened, they added.

Aerial ladders weren't long enough to extend to the seventh floor, about 105 feet up, and the rescued guests were taken to the main floor via elevators, firemen said.

They estimated damage at $800 to the building and $1,000 to the contents.

The hotel's night manager, Ralph Fox, said some guests were evacuated in their night clothes. They went to the hotel lobby and were reassigned to other rooms, he said.

Smoke and Water Damage.

Lewis' rooms were fire-scarred and other rooms in the vicinity suffered smoke and water damage, Fox said.

The night manager added that it appeared the fire was started by a cigarette igniting a mattress. He said Lewis, although partially burned, apparently asphyxiated.

The fire department concurred that the blaze originated in a mattress, but did not specify a cause. Firemen said there were indications that Lewis tried to fight the flames himself. They did not say if death was caused by asphyxiation or burning.

Reds Accept Bid To Antarctic Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department said today the 11 countries invited by President Eisenhower to take part in a conference to neutralize Antarctica have all accepted the invitation.

The final agreement came from the Soviet Union in a note received here Monday. The State Department kept the Soviet approval secret until Moscow radio announced it Tuesday night.

Eisenhower sent his proposal early last month to Russia and 10 other countries. The others are Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Chile, France, Japan, New Zealand, Norway, South Africa and the United Kingdom.

Vetoes Four Bills

Sewer Legislation Rejected by Mayor

Legislation pertaining to the proposed sanitary sewer improvement for the southeast suburban area officially was vetoed Tuesday by Mayor Wendell L. Strong.

In vetoing the three ordinances and one resolution adopted 8-0 May 26 by City Council, the mayor said he objected to:

1. The use of existing sewer bond issue money for the proposed extension of the Forest Lawn Dr. sanitary trunk sewer.

2. The exemption of the Royal Oaks and Zachman-Vernon Acres developments from payment of $100 tapping fee for each sewer tap.

3. The proposed rate of the tapping fee for properties along Forest Lawn Dr. abutting on the proposed extension.

He said further that he would be in favor of the proposed improvement only if the area to be served by the suburban sewers were annexed to the city.

The mayor said he favors exempting the County Home and the Marion Plaza, Inc., shopping center from the $100 tapping fee because the developer of the center has "given a considerable amount

Cloudy Condition Forecast for Area

Fine weather favored Marion Countians Tuesday, with the mercury reaching a high of 76. It dropped to an overnight low of 45, with a few scattered clouds lazing across the sky.

The weatherman predicted fair and warmer conditions tonight, with increasing cloudiness Thursday.

Today's expected high of 82 may be followed by a low of 58 tonight and a high of 87 Thursday. It was 77 at noon today.

Board Reaches No Decision

Status of Marion Local School District Clouded

It's still anybody's guess as to what will happen to the Marion Township Local School district.

The school district — which has no school — came out on the short end of an Ohio Supreme Court ruling last month, climaxing nearly five years of litigation against the Marion County Board of Education over transfer of part of its land to the former Meeker School district.

MEMBERS OF the Marion Local Board of Education met Tuesday night to discuss the situation but came up with no specific plan of action. In the words of the board's clerk, Justin Parsell, the issue is cloaked with an "air of bewilderment."

In its ruling, the high court said, in effect, that under Ohio law the county board of education is authorized to transfer school territory and only electors residing in the affected territory have the right to protest such a move.

The ruling raises some interesting questions. Among them: has the territory at issue actually become a part of the Ridgedale School district or is it still isolated?

Louis Conkle, of the Guthery, Harmon and Conkle law firm which represents the district, said today that he doubts if the transfer would become effective until all litigation has been prosecuted or dismissed.

—:—

AND ONE PIECE of litigation is still pending. That is a taxpayer's suit filed by William Tracewell protesting the county board's action. The suit has never gone to court and according to Mr. Conkle, it's up to Mr. Tracewell to decide whether he wants to prosecute the action.

Mr. Tracewell said earlier that he would want to contact most of the residents in the area before deciding one way or the other.

The territory at issue in the dispute is a small wedge-shaped area west of Marion which contains the Erie Railroad diesel shop, part of the Baker - Wood Manufacturing Co. and the Marion Water Co. pumping station.

Approximately 40 children in the area now attend city schools on a tuition plan of about $20 apiece per month. The tuition currently is paid out of tax money for which the school district still qualifies. If the transfer to the Ridgedale district becomes effective, parents wishing to send their children to city schools would be required to

Bodies of 45 Mexican Air Crash Dead Found

GUADALAJARA, Mexico (AP) —The looted bodies of the 45 victims of Mexico's worst air disaster were being brought to Guadatajara today for identification.

At the rain-swept, mountaintop scene five miles away, investigators sought to learn what caused the Constellation of the Aeronaves de Mexico line to crash into El Picacho Peak Monday night during an electrical storm.

The dead included 13 American and two Canadian passengers—all residents of California—and two American engineers of the crew.

The army was ordered to make a house-by-house search of Tlajomulco village, about four miles from the crash scene, in an effort to recover property looted from the wreckage.

Gets Back Pay

Leo Harvey Is Ordered Reinstated as Policeman

Reinstatement of Marion Police Patrolman Leo L. Harvey with full back pay, allowances, benefits and rights was ordered today by a three-member trial board.

Patrolman Harvey was dismissed from the police force on April 14 by Safety-Service Director Howard W. Travis on the grounds he failed to obey an order giving him 90 days to comply with a civil service commission residence requirement.

The commission regulation was that all city civil service commission employes must reside within Marion County. Mr. Harvey lives on a farm on Rt. 95 in Morrow County just east of the Marion County line.

In its decision today, the trial board said that the regulation is invalid in Mr. Harvey's case because, in his case, it would be an illegal retroactive regulation. It also ruled that the procedure used in his dismissal was not according to law.

Explaining these two reasons for the trial board's decision, Judge Edward J. Ruzzo, one of the board members, said that although the board felt the commission had the authority to adopt a residence requirement regulation and that the one adopted was reasonable, it could not be retroactive.

In Mr. Harvey's case, the board noted that at the time he was employed by the police department and at the time he first moved out-

UAW Sets Up Fresh Try for Big 3 Contract

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union, holding an extension agreement with American Motors Corp., set about today to get its contract negotiations back on course with the car industry's big three.

Meetings were scheduled with General Motors Corp. and with Ford Motor Co., and another with Chrysler Corp. was believed in the offing.

American Motors, a smaller manufacturer, ignored the precedent of the big three and agreed with the UAW Tuesday to an indefinite contract extension.

If AMC and the union fail to agree on new terms by the time their present contract expires June 15, their three-year pact will remain in effect for an indefinite period.

The big three employ half a million men compared to AMC's 20,000. No contracts, as such, now exist between the UAW and the big three, although the companies are maintaining wages and certain other essentials of the expired agreements.

The GM contract expired last Thursday and the Ford and Chrysler contracts Sunday.

Speaks at Annapolis

Peace Should Be Chief Goal, Ike Tells Middies

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — President Eisenhower today told United States Naval Academy graduates their overriding goal in this nuclear age must be prevention of war and promotion of world peace.

But he said too that a just peace can be won only from a position of strength — and that the armed services "have become, indeed, great shields to guard the peace."

In sounding that note, Eisenhower also plugged for his controversial defense reorganization program without mentioning it specifically. He told the 900 academy graduates — being commissioned as ensigns in the Navy or second lieutenants in the Air Force or Marine Corps — to keep up to date on the principles of effective military management.

Then he added: "Obsolescence in military management and organization can be as dangerous to our nation as obsolescence in weaponry."

In an address delivered at the academy commencement exercises, the President said the target of all military officers in these times must be a just peace and prevention of war because winning that goal has become of transcendent importance.

"For modern war," he said, "is preposterously and mutually annihilative; peace is the imperative of our age."

Nixon Incidents Focus Attention

Venezuelan Animosity Toward U.S. Is Strong

By LARRY ALLEN

CARACAS (AP)—There are 40,000 Americans in Venezuela. Do the Venezuelans like them?

Most Americans say "yes," but not the Venezuelans.

A feeling against Americans is acute in the worker and white-collar classes.

Said one government worker:

"Unfortunately, it isn't true that most of the Venezuelan people like Americans. Americans get that opinion of themselves through associates in business, or the relatively small groups of high Venezuelan society with which they come in contact.

"There are tens of thousands of Venezuelans who feel that they are not making enough out of their jobs, and that many posts are given to newly arriving Americans after they have been run and operated by Venezuelans.

"Outside Caracas, there's widespread unemployment, thousands live in poverty and squalor."

Some Venezuelans interviewed say relations with the United States are deteriorating.

The Americans here seem sure of one thing — that they had a close shave after the rioting against Vice President Nixon in Caracas May 13. As one put it:

"Whatever caused Washington to order troops sent to Puerto Rico for a possible shift into Venezuela: Apparently someone overlooked that more than the Nixons might have been in danger.

"There seems little doubt the Venezuelans would have been so enraged that they would have started on a hunt to get all Americans—and it would have only taken a word from the Communists to get the ball rolling."

Qualified Venezuelan sources agree with that opinion. Dr. Rafael Caldera, president of the Copei party and long a friend of the United States, said all Venezuela "would have risen like one man" to repel any U. S. invasion.

House Debating Calculated Risk On Military Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) The House faced a decision today on whether to take "a calculated risk" and cut the strength of the Army from 900,000 to 870,000 men during the year starting July 1.

The administration favors the cut.

At issue is an amendment that would add 99 million dollars to a bill appropriating $38,310,561,000 to run the Defense Department during the 1958-59 fiscal year.

The big money bill, as sent to the House by its Appropriations Committee, provides among other things for an 870,000-man Army June 30, 1959. That is what the administration recommended. It is 30,000 less than projected strength at the end of this month and 127,000 below actual strength last June 30.

3 Hurt When Rocket Explodes on Launcher

FT. SILL, Okla. (AP) — Three Army officers at this artillery and missile center were injured slightly when an Honest John rocket exploded on its launcher.

Lt. Frederick U. Rorapaugh said he was placing fuses on the magnesium warhead Tuesday when he heard one of them click. He shouted a warning to 25 soldiers in the area and leaped to the ground.

The warhead blew up, igniting the rocket motor which sent the 17-foot missile zigzagging 400 yards on the ground.

Flies on Ground

ALPHARETTA, Ga. (AP) — C. G. Rutcher of Winnetka, Ill., made one leg of his flight to Florida on the ground.

Flying his light plane to West Palm Beach, where his wife is, he ran out of gas.

He landed in a corn field, got some gas from a filling station, then taxied down a highway about 10 miles to a baseball field, which provided enough room for him to take off.

Honey of a Mess

HOMESTEAD, Fla. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. John Beenstra got rid of two swarms of bees which took up residence at their house but have been unable to eliminate the honey left behind. It's dripping down walls and screens from between the roof beams. Efforts to bore holes and siphon out the honey have been unsuccessful.

Bricker's Stand Against Seaway Assailed by Young

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker's vote against the St. Lawrence Seaway was "selfish and shameful," says Stephen M. Young, Democratic candidate for the Senate.

Young faces Bricker, the Republican incumbent, in next fall's election.

Addressing a campaign rally here Tuesday night, Young said Bricker was the only Ohio member of Congress to vote against the Seaway project.

"His continued opposition to the St. Lawrence Seaway was shocking and outrageous and against the personal interest of every Ohio citizen and the welfare of our nation," Young said. "He voted for the special interest of the Pennsylvania Railroad which he represents as a lawyer."

Commission on Aging Favors Pension Boost

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Governor's Commission on Aging has recommended the state end its $65-a-month ceiling on old-age pensions.

The proposal headed a list of recommendations announced by the 41-member commission Tuesday.

Other recommendations include:

Removal of the $960 income limitation and citizenship requirement for receiving old age assistance in Ohio.

Expansion of a state employment service for the aged.

Creation of a statewide conference on activity and recreation programs for the state's elder citizens.

More 9-Passenger Models in '59

Auto Trend Is Toward Bigger Station Wagons

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Auto Editor

DETROIT (AP)—The 1959 line of automobiles will include more nine-passenger stations wagons with improved tail-gates and rear-facing rear seats.

The leveling device that is part of most air suspension systems also will be more widely used—possibly without the air suspension units.

The extra-cost optional air suspension systems have not had the wide appeal the industry generally expected. The same is true of fuel injection.

Industry experts have not challenged the efficiency of air suspension and fuel injection, but both are relatively expensive installations. The leveling device has been particularly advantageous with the lowered over-all height of the conventional car.

Some makers will use it with leaf springs or coils. It will be an extra-cost optional item but not nearly as costly as the over-all air suspension systems.

The leveling device maintains the vehicle at a set height above the road surface regardless of load weight.

The nine-passenger station wagon with rear-facing rear seat has been a controversial subject ever since it first was introduced. Criticisms included the assertion it contributed nothing to safer or more comfortable operation. But some advocates said the seats were more easily folded down to provide cargo space in the vehicle.

Instead of the hinged upper half of the rear opening more station wagons will use a section that drops into the lower half. Both upper and lower half then open outward as one unit.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the difficult jobs of housekeeping is to wax linoleum and asphalt tile floors. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it's no longer necessary to wax and scrub; just apply Glaxo about twice a year. It maintains a high lustre non slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor.

Father Saves His Son Tied To Rail Tracks

NORWALK, Calif. (AP) — A small boy, tied to the railroad tracks by two teen-agers, was snatched from certain death by his father, only seconds before a speeding train roared by.

The harrowing experience was disclosed today by sheriff's deputies who told this story:

Michael Richard Evans, 7, and two playmates rode their bikes to the tracks Monday to hunt for rabbits. When they returned, they found their bikes locked. Then two older boys leaped from nearby bushes and threatened them.

The teen-agers let the two playmates go, provided they would keep quiet about Michael's captivity. They ran to Michael's father instead.

The father sprinted to the scene, collaring one of the older youths. He let go, however, when he saw his son tied to the tracks.

The father quickly untied his son. As the boy scrambled to his feet and ran away from the tracks, the train thundered past.

202 Pupils, Teachers Stricken With Food Poisoning at Picnic

MARION, N.C. (AP) — Food poisoning turned a gay year's-end school luncheon into a nightmare for 202 retching, screaming children and teachers at a small grade school Tuesday.

The tide of ill youngsters completely overran the small community hospital and taxed emergency facilities at the school.

Doctors said all patients will recover.

The sudden emergency was met quickly when officials at Marion General Hospital executed a never-practiced hospital disaster plan.

The 60-bed Marion General Hospital admitted 202 children and teachers from the 227-pupil Eugene Cross Elementary School.

Dr. W.F.E. Lostin, public health officer, suspected that the poisining came from ham.

The hospital, alerted by school officials when the first symptoms appeared about two hours after lunch, started preparations immediately for handling an emergency situation. Hospital staff members moved 19 ambulatory patients to nearby nurses quarters, discharged four patients and emptied all hospital beds except four.

Additional beds—many of them cots and roll-aways donated by townspeople after a radio appeal—were placed in hospital corridors. The nurses' lounge and living room became wards.

The town's medical force was supplemented by nurses and rescue squads from nearby towns.

Ohio's Methodists Hear Reports at Lakeside Parleys

LAKESIDE, Ohio (AP)—The 655 pastoral charges in the Ohio Methodist Conference gained 3,405 members and increased their giving for all purposes by $3,125,991 last year.

That was in a report made to 1,400 delegates to the 147th annual conference which opened Tuesday and continues through this week.

The Rev. Charles Farthing of Columbus, conference treasurer, said membership currently was 319,336, and contributions in the last year totaled $18,403,122. Church property was valued at $79,898,018—an all-time high.

Dr. Walter Dickhaut of Zanesville, chairman of the cabinet of superintendents for the conference's 11 districts, expressed concern that church membership had gained only about one per cent in the last year.

An Ohio area study adopted last February embodying long-range plans for Methodist Church growth in Ohio estimated that an annual increase of about 3 per cent would be needed if membership is to keep pace with population growth.

Twin Calves No Bargain On Farm Near Upper

Allen Wentz, farming near Upper Sandusky, is a firm believer in getting double value for his money. But when it comes to calves he's not so sure.

Since August, 10 of his cows have dropped calves. Six of them had twins. So? Well, only three of the 12 twins lived. In short, he has only half as many calves as he could have expected from normal, single births.

Farmer Wentz, as a result, is more of a believer than ever in the addage that "one in the hand is worth two in the bush."

It's Only Money, So Spend It!

The spenders are being open-handed with the earners' money again.

A retroactive 10 per cent pay raise for a million classified federal employes, retroactive to January, may be trimmed a few percentage votes before the House and Senate can agree. But it will cost a half billion dollars.

This half-billion-dollar boost in federal spending comes on top of another half-billion-dollar boost for postal employes and a similar boost for military employes. But chiefly what it comes on top of is an estimate that the federal government already is in the red three billion dollars for the current spending year, with an eight-billion shortage in sight for the new spending year starting July 1. If the total of the three pay-raising measures adopted in the last few weeks reaches a billion and a half, conservative guess, there will be substantial additions to deficit financing in both spending years.

All this will happen, moreover, with no prospect of increased productivity by any of the federal employes affected, with the possible exception of the military beneficiaries, who are supposedly going to be encouraged to stay in uniform longer when the pay is better. This would add to military efficiency.

But there had been no concern expressed over the federal government's ability to fill up its roster of classified employes and only nominal concern over the pay scales of postal employes. There was no strident demand for a wave of pay-boosting in federal employment at this time — not with six million wage earners unemployed.

On the contrary, President Eisenhower and his administration had been telling Americans who produce all the wealth the government spends that inflation would be made worse if pay raises were granted without increases in productivity.

Many of the dome-brained thinkers in Washington had been shouting from the treasury tops that what the country needed was a robust round of tax cuts to lighten the load on taxpayers' creaking backs.

Yet, without blinking an eye these same people cheerfully fork out still more of the taxpayers' money for pay increases that no one was yelling for, except the beneficiaries. It makes a taxpayer look twice to be sure the dateline on this report of government irresponsibility is Washington, not Paris.

In a more sensible era, before liberality with other people's money became a half-nelson on voters' gratitude, no government would have dreamed of boosting its employes' pay while its taxpayers were grunting through a business slowdown.

These are the days of the great giveaway. It's only money, so spend it!

But somewhere, somehow, money must be earned before the generous benefactors of politics can ladle it out. The federal government is running in the red because the earning end of the business is harder than it was before.

A couple million federal employes are in the bucks, however, because the giveaway end is still easy. Federal employes need the money, so give it to them. No others need apply, because that would be inflationary. It also would be stupid.

Both Ends of a Bargain

"Time is on our side," says Walter Reuther, referring to the inability of his United Auto Workers to bring General Motors, Ford and Chrysler to terms on a new contract.

Historically, Mr. Reuther has the weight of the evidence on his side. It has been 20 years since the auto industry was organized — and time so far has been in favor of United Auto Workers.

Time has been linked with necessity and expediency, however. The auto industry during its two decades of experience with the United Auto Workers has been on the short end of bargaining power. It has yielded, sometimes because it had no choice and other times because one or the other of its component parts conceded to the union to gain a competitive advantage over a business rival.

What now remains to be seen is how long it will be until not only time but necessity and expediency again are on UAW's side.

Collective bargaining presupposes that bargaining power will ebb and flow on both sides. This year, Mr. Reuther and his strategists had nothing to use for leverage. It would have been sheer folly to strike, and without the threat of a strike to tie up one of the Big Three while the other two were permited to stay in business the UAW had no lever.

Therefore, its contracts will be continued in effect, with two significant exceptions. Employers will not collect union dues for the UAW, and workers will not be required to belong to the union as a condition of employment. Dues and membership will be voluntary. This is one particular in which time may not be on the side of UAW. The checkoff and the union shop were advantages it gained when bargaining leverage was on its side. The auto companies are willing to continue all the other advantages it gained for workers, except these, which were for the benefit of UAW, not for automobile workers.

One More Hurdle

The attempt to provide sanitary sewer service for the southeastern suburban district has surmounted many hurdles in the past and is faced with one more—a veto of the necessary legislation.

It is the hope and expectation of this newspaper that the final hurdle will be taken in a breeze. City Council passed the legislation unanimously, and there is no reason to think that it will not override Mayor Strong's veto in the same manner.

Council's sewer committee, composed of Richard Lister (R-at large), chairman, Harold Smith (D-at large) and Emmett Osterholt (R-6th), is ready to call council together at the earliest moment possible under the law to consider a vote to override. They would have called the meeting tonight, were it not for a law prohibiting action to override until 10 days after receiving the veto.

With council in this "cut out the foolishness" mood, speedy reapproval of the legislation seems assured. The only result of the mayor's action then would be another delay in starting the sewer improvement. This seems a peculiar reason to exercise the veto right.

Citizenship Desired

Marion County commissioners are expected to rule soon on a petition of residents of Vernon Heights to annex to the city.

The law provides that the commissioners must approve the proposed annexation before the question is sent to City Council. If they vote against annexation, the issue dies; there is no right of appeal. If they approve annexation, the question goes to the city, where it must win approval again, or be killed by a negative vote.

Proponents of Vernon Heights annexation argue that the issue really should be decided in the city, and that the commissioners should approve it so that the city may have that opportunity.

Their argument has merit.

It would be unfortunate if residents of the area wanting to annex, having demonstrated through their petitions a desire to become part of the city, were denied the full opportunity to have their desire heard.

The county will lose nothing by approving the annexation. The city stands to gain new citizens. It is a desire for full citizenship that motivates Vernon Heights residents to seek annexation. This seems fitting reason for approving their plea.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The consumer holds the key to quick recovery, say monetary experts. If the American buyers stay cautious and fearful the slump will get worse. But since they have been buying big for years without batting an IOU, chances are they won't substitute buttons for zippers on pocketbooks. "Don't be a Scrooge-ball!" expresses normal American psychology. Prosperity calls for consumer teamwork. It is not American disposition to "stay on the bench" in a critical period of a game.

FOLKS LOVE SLOGANS. Our economy is helped by them. We suggest a few:

Let your purse be your guide but not your keeper.

A timid shopper is a recession's best friend.

Don't spend foolishly and don't tighten up crazily.

Give recovery a hand or the slump may give you "the foot."

The key to economic upswing is your wallet but never confuse a wallet with a hole in a tree.

Buyers put people back to work.

Prophets of gloom never yet got into a photo finish with believers in the American way.

Stop, look and listen! But don't stop at shadows, look at scarecrows or listen to congenital killjoys, Monday morning quarterbacks and neurotic kibitzers.

Don't confuse thrift with stinginess or prudence with timidity.

Don't quit when you're ahead in bookkeeping but behind in confidence.

If you too want unemployment, be a penny-pincher.

A nation that plans to shoot for the moon can shoot for the jackpot.

Only the squirrel lives habitually on the principle that things are bound to get tougher.

THE U.S. SENATE has been putting on its own musical quiz show with the chief question, "When is music not music and should song writers like Berlin, Rodgers, Hammerstein and Porter be sidetracked on airwaves for composers with special talent for splitting eardrums?"

Make good on these questions and you can go on to: (1) Should songs pumped into the homes of America be recognizable at once as songs and not as cries of panic from a leaking rubber raft; (2) Should music be something that can be taken without earflaps and tranquilizer pills.

THIS SEEMS TO BE children's hour in theater and on TV. Hardly a Broadway musical opens without featured moppets. Dramas and farce comedies center around them. On TV crooning infants are busting out all over.

The Lambs Club is reported considering refitting one of its rooms with high chairs and sand boxes.

Mikhail A. Menshikov has just publicly insulted the government of the United States to which he is officially accredited as the ambassador from the Soviet Union.

Lawrence

The insult was deliberate. It was flung at the United States government over the radio which reaches millions of American citizens. Menshikov said, in effect, that while he was sure the people of the United States do not want war, he is not so sure about the government of the United States.

Here are the exact words from the transcript of the broadcast known as Reporters' Roundup over the Mutual Broadcasting System on Monday evening June 2. A reporter on the panel asked:

"You have at least traveled somewhat around the United States and have met a number of Americans. One gets the impression that at least some people in the Soviet Union think that Americans want war. I wonder if your impression of the Americans you have met — is that Americans want war."

"I think it would be correct," was the ambassador's reply, "for me to say on the basis of what I have seen and what I have met that American people generally as the people of other countries they do not want war."

The next question was as follows:

"Well then, one more question, do you think that there is any great difference between the intention and wish of the American government and the wish of the American people — in other words, do you think that the American government wants war when the American people don't?"

TO THIS the Soviet ambassador made this amazing reply:

"Well, I don't think I'll be in a position to answer this question. I simply am not acquainted yet well enough with the policies of the government to answer this question."

The questioner persisted: "In other words, you have no personal impression even?"

The Soviet ambassador replied: "Well, as I said, I'm not ready to answer this question."

But Menshikov's first answer did leave the impression on listeners that the policies of the United States government against war were unknown to him and that the government here may actually favor war.

Unless a public apology is forthcoming, the Department of State should be sending Menshikov back to Russia by declaring him "persona non grata" to the government of the United States.

THE EXPRESSION "persona non grata" — which means that an individual is not any longer acceptable as a person in a diplomatic post — was used by the Soviet government itself a few years ago for an offense much less serious than that just committed by Menshikov.

It happened in September 1952 when George Kennan, the American ambassador to Moscow, stopped off in Berlin en route to a conference in London.

He was quoted in an interview with the press as saying that he and other Western diplomats were residing in an "icy cold" atmosphere of isolation so complete that he couldn't even talk to his guides or servants except on simple business.

He added that it was impossible to engage Russians in ordinary conversation as they seemed painfully aware of their government's wish that they avoid any social contact with Americans.

Mr. Kennan said the isolation was worse than that he experienced as an interned diplomat in Germany when the Nazis in 1941 declared war on the United States.

FOR GIVING this interview Ambassador Kennan was ordered out of Moscow by the Soviet government. It is the privilege of any government to determine whether ambassadors shall continue to be accredited and it does not mean any severance of diplomatic relations but merely a change in personnel when an ambassador or any one of his staff is declared "persona non grata."

Menshikov has been pictured as a suave diplomat who likes to fraternize with Americans. He was recently exposed as the man who, as the head of the United Nations rehabilitation agency in Poland in 1945, preferred to let innocent civilians starve because they were not Communist sympathizers.

A House committee on foreign affairs report charged him with this and he was removed from his post after a petition was transmitted in 1946 to President Truman by the same House committee.

He never should have been accepted by the American government in 1958 as the Soviet ambassador to this country.

Tips to Would-Be Brides

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

Many a would-be June bride won't be this year.

The reason in many cases will be very simple—and her own fault: She will waste her time building up her suitor's ego.

HAL BOYLE

This is all wrong. The best way for her to bring a reluctant bachelor to the point of marriage is to tear him down.

It is doubtful whether more than one out of every five men marry from strength. The rest marry from weaknesses of one kind or another.

IN FOUR CASES out of five, then, the problem of a marriage-minded girl isn't to make her prospective mate feel strong and superior. It is to make him feel weak, helpless and indecisive—unable to face the terror of daily life alone, with no strong shoulder such as hers to lean upon. He must be made to feel utterly dependent upon her.

How can this be done? How can a girl break down a healthy, freedom-loving bachelor so that he willingly will embrace matrimony as a refuge?

HERE ARE A FEW off-hand tips:

1. Take him to the beach and let him get sunburned the color of a lobster.

2. Send to his sickbed a gift of roses—embowered in poison ivy leaves.

3. Wine him and dine him and keep him out late until he gets circles under his manly little eyes. When he shows signs of collapsing under the pace, let him know that what you'd really like is a home where you could tuck him in bed early every night and let him rest.

4. Once you've got him really worried about his health, have an insurance company mail him a few facts on male mortality, pointing out that husbands live longer and have fewer diseases than bachelors.

5. Lend him money to pay his medical and racetrack debts. Hint that, if you were married, you'd be willing to cancel not only the interest charges but the principal, too.

6. Tell him that you just got a raise and your job is safe, but that at your firm they are laying off the bachelors first and the married men last. This will really worry him.

7. Finally, as a clincher, you wistfully inform him that a handsome new fellow at your office has proposed and that, while you don't love him, still a girl has to think of her future, et cetera, et cetera.

BY NOW completely dependent upon you, broken in body and spirit, the fear-ridden bum of your choice will cave in at once and plead for you to marry him.

Which you cheerfully do. You may be getting a human wreck for a husband—a wreck you made yourself—and your consience may trouble you a bit. But remember, you've got the rest of your life to build your new husband back into manhood again.

Tito in Trouble Again

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Soviet Communists blew the roof off in 1956, and have been going around picking up the pieces ever since. They picked up a piece Tuesday, disclaiming the idea that communism outside the Soviet Union could develop independently of Moscow.

Nikita Khrushchev, then party boss and now premier, put on a shattering performance as principal speaker of the Soviet Communist party's 20th Congress in February 1956.

HE NOT ONLY denounced Stalin's one-man rule and the "cult of the individual" but painted him as a murderer. He pictured the Soviet Union in the future as being guided by a collective leadership instead of that of one man.

This had shock effect on some non-Soviet Communists who had slavishly followed and defended every twist and turn laid down by Stalin. This brutal disillusionment drove some Communists out of communism. It helped split the American Communist party.

But this was also a time—in 1956—when the Kremlin was trying to woo back Marshal Tito and his Yugoslav Communists who had broken with Stalin and were pursuing their own course, independent of Moscow.

SO LONG as Tito could survive and thrive separate from the Soviet Union and her European satellites, he would be a constant encouragement to them to try the same.

The 20th Congress was told that socialism, meaning communism, could develop at different speeds and in different ways in different countries and that conformity to the Moscow model was not compulsory.

This was trying to make the best of a bad situation, since Tito showed no signs of conforming. It was also propaganda to help Communist parties in non-Communist countries make a show of acting as nationalists concerned about their own countries' Communist development without subservience to Moscow.

BUT IT HAD a bad effect. It looked as if Moscow was loosening—or losing—its grip on Communists outside the Soviet Union. It caused confusion in non-Soviet Communist ranks. And it gave captive peoples the idea they might throw off communism altogether.

The first bad effects showed in Poland. There were riots there. Then the Hungarians revolted in the fall of 1956. Things were getting out of hand. The Soviets sent in their army and crushed the Hungarian rebels.

But Tito wouldn't be wooed. He continued to play footsie with both the Soviets and the West, going his own independent way, seeking aid from both sides. In recent weeks the Soviets finally and publicly got sore at him.

AND TUESDAY in Bulgaria Khrushchev hit out at the Yugoslav boss. Said Khrushchev: "No one will ever believe that there are two kinds of socialism (communism) in the world—one which world reaction furiously hates and the other which is agreeable to imperialists and to which they are giving their help and support."

Khrushchev said the Yugoslav leaders had declined to confer with other Communist parties to draft a general Communist program.

With these statements Khrushchev threw out the window those encouraging words of 1956: that different countries could follow their own road to communism without conforming to the Soviet model.

If any non-Soviet Communists took those words of 1956 seriously, and few probably did, they're disenchanted now.

Thus slowly and even painfully Khrushchev has been forced to repair the damage the Soviets did to themselves in February 1956.

Short of Workers

By Truman Twill

The secretary of labor has dropped a note to college boys and girls this year, to tell them jobs are not going to be had for the asking. This is information that had to be picked up the hard way some years ago, when jobs never were to be had for the asking.

A friend of ours was talking about some jobs he had to offer a few nights ago and wondering who was going to get them. He was not hopeful that he would be able to find what he was looking for, because his specifications were old-fashioned.

He was looking for people willing to work as hard as he worked in order to keep his enterprise going. More than that, he was looking for willing workers with enough savvy to help him run the outfit.

This would-be employer has no automated machinery. Everything his employes do demands a degree of judgment. His enterprise is highly competitive, and too many bloopers along the line can put it in the red. The profit margin is slim.

Unlike enterprises that can increase the size of their margin by putting in bigger and slicker machinery, this one can get its toehold only by putting in more people who will knock themselves out to make it successful.

The trouble is, he explained, that he has come up against a shortage of the right kind of people. He has dozens of applicants but no candidates for hiring.

Those who might make candidates are not applying because the work is hard, the hours irregular and the pay measly, compared with pay scales in enterprises that can recover their costs from the public. His costs must be recovered from his own ingenuity.

Moreover—and this is the heaviest handicap, he suspects — all his employes get their hands dirty. They wear working clothes. They get tired out at the end of a day. There are no switches they can flip when they feel like quitting. They must finish what they are doing.

He thinks the kind of people who go to college would be good at his kind of work if they were interested in it. But they aren't. They do not go to college to take dirty-hand jobs. Yet the kind of people who are willing to take dirty-hand jobs all too frequently, in my friend's judgment, have limitations or have formed ideas about what a job should be that makes them useless to him.

He does not know what is going to happen to enterprises like his. They are in demand; business is booming. But they are desperately short of manpower — not applicants for jobs but people who can fill jobs. This makes him feel discouraged and dubious about the future of a country that is chronically short of dirty-hand workers with mental candlepower to boot.

If the secretary of agriculture cared to mention this problem in some future message to college boys and girls, he would earn the gratitude of a lot of would-be employers who are grappling with it each day, starting at about 7. The country is not only short of jobs but of workers.

Blast Censorship

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—The opposition People's Republican party today accused Premier Adnah Menderes' government of preparing illegal and unconstitutional measures to silence criticism.

The statement followed government orders for the second straight day preventing newspapers from printing remarks of Republican leader Ismet Inonu, former president of Turkey.

State Digging Deeper Into Its Relief Funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state dips further today into next year's poor relief appropriation to match county expenditures for the month of April.

The state controlling board approved transfer of $2,123,000 to provide dollar-for-dollar matching at the request of Mrs. Margaret Ireland, state welfare director.

The money will come from a 12-million-dollar poor relief appropriation for the state's bookkeeping year starting next July 1. More than $200,000 was transferred from the same appropriation to match March expenditures.

The transfers became necessary to meet Gov. C. William O'Neill's matching policy after the state last March spent the full 12 million dollar appropriation for the current fiscal year ending June 30.

O'Neill has said he will ask a special session of the Legislature for an additional poor relief appropriation to avoid a deficiency that looms because of heavy expenditures during the recession. No date for the special session has been set.

Charges Dropped

Charges of fishing without a license were dismissed in Marion Municipal Court Tuesday against two former Marion men.

They were: D. E. Erwin and L. E. Erwin who gave their address as 597 Park St. when they were arrested March 26, 1957, by Marion County Game Protector James Thatcher.

The charges were dismissed against them on motion of John Stuckey, assistant city solicitor, because the two men are no longer residents of Ohio, and it would not be practicable to return them to Ohio to bring them to trial.

The four top ranking states in agriculture are Texas, Iowa, California and Illinois.

$100 Million in Dues Lost Yearly

Labor Union Finances Hit by Recession Woes

By VICTOR RIESEL

If some union books were opened today, enough red would show through to out-glare a four-alarm fire. Word in the field is that labor is losing about 100 million dollars more in dues a year.

VICTOR RIESEL

The national headquarters of some of the giant unions are running out of operating cash—and find themselves digging into capital—like any businessman—if they have it. This recession has thrown some three million unionists out of work. Of course, they don't pay dues. But hundreds of thousands more are on part time and they're not paying either.

Like many a businessman many a labor chief has found is outfit over expanded. Plans to erect new buildings are being dropped. Recently the national AFL-CIO headquarters in Washington shelved what was reported to have been a million dollar annex to it's four-million-dollar building across from the White House.

You can't tell from the drama which envelops the colorful giants in the day's headlines but they have shrunk considerably. There is, for example, the United Mine Workers of John Lewis, who is planning to go to Stockholm this summer to whip up international trade in coal. Lewis' grand old Miners Union has been virtually cut in half. There are less than 200,000 coal diggers working steadily these days.

THOUGH FEW labor chiefs are as fiercely loyal to their men as the "old man"—78-year-old John L.—he finally has been forced to start retiring some of his staff. The orders are to pension off those over 65 and double up the work of the remaining force.

There are authentic reports, too, that Walter Reuther's Auto Union now is down to some 850,000 members—and not all of these work a long enough week to pay dues. At the last count, the union had cut about 100 of its staff and saw at least another 50 layoffs inevitable.

Reports from other unions around the country were that there would have to be more firings—and this means additional headaches for the national labor chiefs. Out of this there will spring up the newest kind of recession baby—a network of unions of union organizers.

These little unions of union organizers now have the right to bargain with the national union chiefs—who are the employers in this case.

Everywhere, union staff members are watching the adventures of one union of union organizers—the Field Representatives Federation.

This is made up of a good many of the 215 men who were on the national AFL-CIO field staff payroll a year ago. This Field Representatives Federation was organized in March 1957.

LESS THAN a year later the labor movement's national office fired 56, retired 14 and transferred 30 to make-shift work in a speaker's bureau which has not quite hit the road.

The national AFL-CIO officers refused to recognize the organizers' union. The organizers went to the National Labor Relations Board. Then at an AFL-CIO executive board session last week this union suddenly was recognized by the AFL-CIO.

Until this moment, the Field Representatives Federation has been a provisional union. Now it will run an election by mail and have its new constitution approved by referendum.

Once on a permanent basis, the FRF's national leaders will formally call on AFL-CIO President George Meany and Secretary-Treasurer Bill Schnitzler to bargain as do Walter Reuther and General Motors.

This new union of men who attempt to unionize business firms is not too much absorbed in getting wage increases for its people right now. It will call on George Meany to give its people some job security and set up machinery for settling grievances.

This will mean that Meany and Schnitzler will be able to fire an organizer only for certain cause.

They will be able to shift him or add to his assignments only after consulting with a special union committee if the organizer feels aggrieved by what the national labor headquarters hands him.

Thus labor's management, like business, will have to bow a little to the decisions of the men they employ.

A WEDDING BY CANOE. While paddling their own canoes on a placid Belle Isle lagoon at Detroit two years ago, Nancy Youngblood and Irven Devore met. They were married in the sentimental setting Saturday. The wedding party all arrived for the ceremony in flower-decked canoes. (UPI Telephoto)

Miss Hayman Married In Ceremony at Dayton

Miss Florence E. Hayman of Dayton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Hayman of 680 Uncapher Ave., became the bride Sunday of Pfc. William V. Martin, U.S. Army. The wedding took place in Memorial Evangelical and Reformed Church in Dayton at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon with the pastor, the Rev. E. A. Puff, officiating.

White gladioli were the altar flowers. Presenting nuptial music were Mrs. J. B. Brown, organist, and Mrs. Ina Mae Stahl, vocalist, both of Dayton.

The bridegroom is the grandson of Mrs. Sarah Martin of Dayton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white dacron and cotton with blue net over all. Her jewelry was a blue multi-colored choker and matching earrings and she carried white carnations arranged on a white Bible with a blue net background.

Mrs. William V. Martin

The bride's maid of honor and only attendant was Miss Janice Stallard of Dayton, who was attired in a pink dacron and cotton gown. Her corsage was of white carnations.

John Hayman of Morris, Ill., brother of the bride, served as best man for the bridegroom, and the usher was another brother, Tom Hayman of Marion.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hayman chose a two-piece dress of pink linen with which she combined white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. Mrs. Martin, the bridegroom's grandmother, was dressed in black and had a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception followed in the social rooms of the church. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Harold Jones and Mrs. Tom Hayman of Marion and Mrs. John Hayman of Morris, Ill.

Mrs. Martin has been employed at the Montgomery County Chapter of the American Red Cross in Dayton. Her husband is stationed with the 74th Missile Battalion of the Army in Pittsburgh, Pa. The couple will make their home in Pittsburgh.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jones of Marion, Mrs. Nelson Pierson of Newark and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gant of Urbana.

Two Accident Victims Showing Improvements

Glen H. Skinner, 31, of near Prospect, seriously injured in a Rt. 4 accident early Tuesday, was improving at Marion General Hospital today after undergoing several hours of surgery yesterday, the operating surgeon reported this morning.

Skinner's condition was listed as "poor" at the hospital Tuesday. He sustained a fractured skull, compound fractures of both legs and severe lacerations of the body in the accident.

The other person injured and hospitalized as a result of the 3:30 a.m. mishap was Earl L. Stevens, 22, of Prospect, whose condition also was listed as improved today, the surgeon said.

He suffered several broken bones and severe lacerations of the body. The auto driven by Skinner struck a culvert three and one-half miles south of Marion, injuring the two men.

Charge Against Man Is Dismissed by Court

A charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor against 44-year-old Lloyd Detwiler of near Marion was dismissed today at a hearing in Juvenile Court.

Detwiler was arrested May 26 for allegedly selling beer to a minor boy. The case was dismissed on the basis of a Third District Court of Appeals ruling which is binding on juvenile courts in the district.

Judge Edward J. Ruzzo said the appellate court has held that selling beer to a minor does not necessarily make the minor delinquent, that the delinquency occurs in consumption of the beer. Thus, he said, the adult cannot be charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor even though the sale of beer to a minor is prohibited by state law.

Violation of the state law is punishable as a criminal offense, but the case cannot be tried in Juvenile Court.

Will Receive Degree

WHARTON — The Rev. Mark Reep, minister of the Beech Grove EUB Church, will receive his bachelor's degree Sunday at 8:30 p.m. at the 105th commencement exercises of Heidelberg College in Tiffin.

Caledonia School Repairs Planned

Plans for the summer maintenance program were made when the Caledonia Board of Education held its monthly meeting Tuesday night.

The board toured the school buildings and decided on which projects needed attention this summer. The members also studied a report on the project to be done this summer of rebuilding several of the furnaces in the school buildings.

A report from the clerk showed that enrollment in the school will be up slightly next fall. The clerk recently completed an enumeration of the district.

Discussion was held and preliminary plans laid for the Statehouse Conference on Education to be held this fall.

Also discussed was the summer playground program which will open in the near future.

Hoytville Will Be Site of Beef Day Thursday

Exhibits, Tours of Area, Talks Slated at Experiment Station

Thursday is the day. That's when the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster sponsors its popular Beef Cattle Day. The event this year will be held at the OAES Northwestern Substation at Hoytville.

Several hundred farmers and beef cattle feeders are expected to attend the program, which is slated to get started about 9:30 a.m., and be finished by 4 p.m.

Discussions, demonstrations and exhibits will highlight the day's activities, with lunch to be furnished on the grounds.

In the morning, farmers will hear results of experiments of the implantation of stilbestrol and a combination of stilbestrol and testosterone in fattening heifers. A demonstration of stilbestrol implanting will be presented and a discussion of feeding stilbestrol and implanting synovex will follow.

Several Discussions

Feeders may also sit in on a discussion of the control of shipping fever and systemic grub control.

Station experts will show the results of experiments in self-feeding different ratios of pelleted alfalfa hay and ground ear corn to fattening steers. And, they will explain the relationships of protein, energy and stilbestrol for fattening cattle. The value of using tranquilizers in fat cattle rations will be noted and station beef specialists will discuss Charolaise cross cattle.

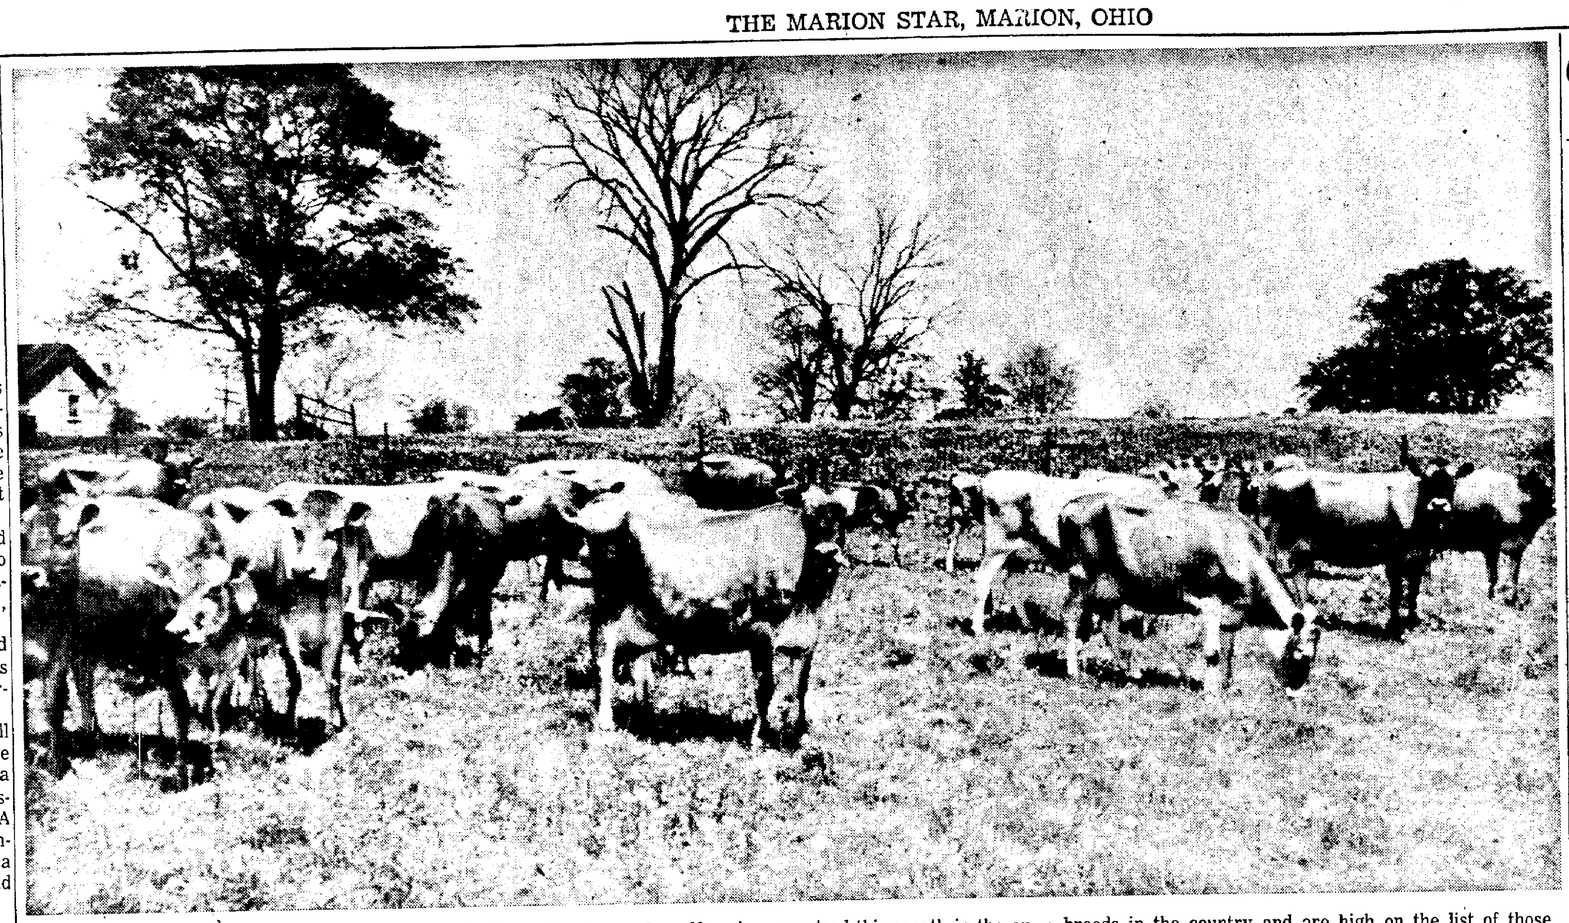
Following the noon meal, L. L. Rummell, dean of Ohio State University's college of agriculture, will welcome Beef Cattle Day guests. Wilbur Wood, director of OSU's agricultural extension service, will then talk on the application of beef cattle research.

A symposium at 1:40 p.m. will feature a round-table discussion on marketing fat cattle, with Mervin G. Smith, OSU and OAES agricultural economics chairman, in charge. Comprising the panel will be George Henning, OSU economist; D. M. Eckert, head of the Eckert Packing Co. of Defiance, O.; Emerson Pelton of the Findlay Producers Livestock Association; and Mark Knoop, Troy cattle feeder.

Climaxing Events

Then at 2:30 p.m., as a climax to the day's activities, a discussion will be held on harvesting, storing and feeding high moisture corn, with Wallace Nelson, Archbold, O., cattle feeder, moderating. Joining in the discussion will be J. D. Bickle, OSU agricultural engineering extension specialist; Ray Whetstone, Lima cattleman; J. H. Warner, beef cattle extension specialist at OSU; Fred Knoblaugh, cattle feeder of Blissfield, Mich.; and Earle W. Klosterman of the OAES department of animal science.

In addition to the aforementioned program, both educational and commercial exhibits will be on hand.



DAIRY MONTH OBSERVED. "There is virtue in the cow; she is full of goodness; the whole landscape looks out of her soft eyes. I had rather have the care of cattle than be the keeper of the great seal of the nation." Thus did John Burroughs eulogize the cow, whose contribution to man's welfare is recognized this month in the annual "June Is Dairy Month" observance. The recognition is nationwide and this year marks the 351st anniversary of the founding of the American dairy industry. These fine Jersey cattle represent but one of seven dairy breeds in the country and are high on the list of those cattle whose production insures Ohio and Marion County an important niche in the ever-rising spire to the success of dairying. This is part of the Richard Linstedt herd in Prospect Township.

Junior Stock Sale Is Set for Aug. 21

The Marion County Junior Livestock Sale this year will be held again in connection with the county fair, according to James Smoot, manager of Marion's Producers Livestock Association.

This year's event is slated for 7 p.m. Aug. 21, in the Memorial Coliseum.

Mr. Smoot, who will be in general charge of the sale, notes that fat cattle, hogs and sheep, representing both 4-H and FFA projecs in Marion and area, will go over the auction block to highest bidders.

The sale has attracted a wide interest in recent years and is fast becoming one of the highlights of the annual fair week.

A BARNFULL OF OWLS. "A wise old owl sat in an oak." So goes the poem. It continues: "The more he saw the less he spoke." That wasn't the case here, where these five barn owls were reposing in a corner of the Richard Linstedt barn in Prospect Township. And, they had plenty to say, mostly uncomplimentary. Mr. Linstedt discovered them a day or so ago. They're welcome visitors on most farms in the county, since their presence is a signal for a mass migration of rats and mice from the premises.

Corn Acreage For '58 Props To Be Mapped

Farmers who wish to apply for price support on their 1958 corn crop are reminded today by Harry A. Laucher, chairman of the Marion County agricultural committee, that they must have their corn acreage measured to determine whether they have complied with their allotment or not.

Cards have been sent to producers, Mr. Laucher notes, informing them of the necessity of notifying the local ASC office of their desires with regard to this matter.

Either owners of farms or the operators thereof can apply for the props, with requests for measurements to be made at the ASC office. Measuring is expected to get started sometime next week, Chairman Laucher points out.

Jersey Sets New Production Mark

Marlu Milady, registered Jersey cow owned by Marlu Farm of Lincroft, N. J., is the first Jersey on the North American continent to produce over 25,000 pounds of milk. milk.

She recently finished her eight year, eleven month record with a total of 25,293 pounds of milk and 1,210 pounds of fat in a 365-day, three-time-a-day milking schedule.

This exceeds by 674 pounds her record set one year ago of 24,619 pounds of milk and strengthens her hold on the title of the national milk champion of all ages.

Crop Disposal Dates for Soil Bank Checked

Feed Wheat Deadline, Referendum Date Are Noted by ASC Office

Edwin Augenstein, manager of the Marion ASC office, reminds Marion County farmers this week that June 20 is the day to vote on wheat marketing quotas for the 1959 crop.

The county agricultural committee is meeting today to decide how many polling locations will be needed. The vote will be nationwide. In years past, Marion countians have gone along with the country in voting for wheat market quotas. Ohio, however, has yet to favor them by a majority vote.

Last Day to Sign

Mr. Augenstein also points out that June 6 is the last day to sign feed wheat agreements. Either owners or farms or operators may enter into these contracts.

For farmers who have signed '58 acreage reserve agreements, the following disposition dates are noted, as approved by the state agricultural committee. All are this year.

Crop	Disposal Date
Biennial-perennial hay	Nov. 30
Perennial grasses	Nov. 30
Vetch, annual rye grass	Nov. 30
Barley	June 11
Wheat	June 11
Rye	June 11
Oats	June 25
Soybeans	Sept. 15
Buckwheat	Aug. 31

Destruction, the ASC manager notes, is not required if the crop would not mature seed which could be harvested after Dec. 31, 1958.

Disposition Dates

Disposition dates for this year's crops which may be found growing on the acreage reserve at the time the agreement is signed are as follows:

Crop	Disposal Date
Barley	June 11
Rye	June 11
Wheat	June 11
Oats	June 25

And, observes Mr. Augenstein, farmers are cautioned that they must prevent from growing the following "noxious" weeds: Canada thistle, Johnson grass, quack grass, European bindweed and chicory.

3 Youths in County Set Record for FFA Awards

Prospect Chapter Boys Win Two Star Titles

You might say the chances of one FFA chapter getting two Star Farmer degrees in one year would be about as great as the proverbial "once in a blue moon." Yet this year the Prospect unit turned the trick.

When Ohio's FFA youths step up for awards at the 29th annual convention of the Ohio Association of Future Farmers of America Thursday night in the Youth building on the state fairgrounds, Prospect's Gene Isler and Joe Isler Jr. will be on hand to be acclaimed the state's top pork and beef producers respectively.

—:—

WHAT'S MORE, Darrell Gerfen will be recognized for having maintained the most complete and accurate record books during his four years in FFA work. This achievement is recognized by the Ohio Bankers' Association and is considered tantamount to having won another Star Farmer degree.

So unusual is it for one chapter to get two Star awards, plus the Bankers' prize, that the feat has never before been accomplished in the annals of Ohio FFA. Activities of the Prospect FFA chapter are guided by John Watkins, vocational-agriculture teacher.

D. R. Purkey, assistant head of the vocational-agriculture division of the State Department of Education, said: "To win two Star awards in the same chapter in one year is quite unprecedented. To have added the Bankers' award to those degrees is outstanding indeed. Mr. Watkins and his chapter are deserving of considerable commendation."

Here are brief sketches of the three award winners:

Joe Isler Jr., 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Isler of the Prospect community, the same Islers whose Shorthorn cattle rank among the finest in the state.

Joe, the state's top FFA beefman, not only won a Star award this year, but also captured State Farmer honors. His primary projects while in chapter work have been both cattle and crops. Showing registered Shorthorns, young Isler captured championship and reserve grand championship honors in the female division of the breed at the Ohio State Fair last year, a feat he looks on as one of his most significant. And, in 1953 he showed the reserve grand champion over all at the fair, coming in second in a class of 102.

Joe has never shown his livestock to a rating of less than "A."

He is presently in partnership with his father in an enterprise consisting of 107 head of cattle and plans to continue farming now that he's out of school. He's a former student adviser at Prospect.

Darrell Gerfen, 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Gerfen. Darrell, the state's best record keeper, won State Farmer honors in 1957.

Young Gerfen, while taking top honors with his books, has also had considerable experience with livestock. During his four years of chapter work he's shown Shorthorn cattle, Hampshire swine, Suffolk sheep and Holstein dairy projects. He took the reserve championship at the fat steer show at the county fair one year and showed the champion and reserve champion sows there last year.

He started his project work with a gilt, two heifers, 10 ewes and 100 broilers. He was second in the Chicken of Tomorrow contest in 1957 and wound up second in the extemporaneous division of the FFA public speaking contest this year.

Darrell is not certain what he will do now that he's out of high school but he aspires to furthering his education at Ohio State University, with some phase of animal science as his major.

Gene Isler, 18, a cousin of Joe is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Isler.

Gene, like Darrell, was a State Farmer a year ago. He's made his best progress in showing registered Duroc Jersey swine, the success for which has earned for him the Star Farmer degree as the foremost FFA pork producer.

As a freshman, young Isler had one sow and a litter. As a sophomore he had three sows and litters, and then in his junior year he became a partner with his father in a herd of 30 sows. The Isler swine interests this year included 40 sows and litters.

Gene took championship boar honors at the Ohio State Fair in both 1955 and 1957, adequate evidence of his prowess in the hog business. He also placed high at the Michigan State Fair.

Vice president of his chapter two years, Gene was also treasurer one session.

He plans to farm with his father and perhaps attend OSU in Marion, with agriculture education or animal science his ultimate fields of endeavor.

These, then, are the three boys whose feats have established a state record for other FFA units to shoot at. Notes Mr. Watkins, who has now been seven years at the helm of the Prospect FFA chapter: "The honors these boys will receive have been more than earned. They've taken an interest in the work, done all they could to help themselves and have been, in every respect, exemplary students and chapter project participants. They deserve the county's congratulations."

Linstedt Jersey Herd Is of 'Home Grown' Variety

All Save One of Group Of 50 Cattle Were Born on Farm

By ALLAN BOVEY
Marion Star Farm Editor

Marion County is, without question, one of Ohio's outstanding dairy areas. That fact is brought to mind this week as the nation observes "June Is Dairy Month." Good herds, top productions and ever more efficient breeding have assured the county its place as a dairy section of import.

One of the many fine herds and dairy programs maintained here is the Jersey enterprise of Richard Linstedt, who farms 180 acres on County Rd. 83, commonly called the "West River Road," about a mile north of Prospect.

Mr. Linstedt has a herd of about 50 cows and heifers, with 24 head under production. A farmer "on his own" for some eight years his herd is a relatively young one, with most of his milkers between seven and eight years of age. The "grandma" of the crew is an 11-year-old.

THE LINSTEDT Jerseys are registered, classified and are, to the Linstedts, proof that a family with desire, good management and the industry common to the country's better farmers, can prosper and get ahead even in the face of today's high farm costs and uncertain income.

Says Mr. Linstedt: "When I started farming eight years ago I borrowed every last cent I had to operate with. Today I owe no one a penny." The Linstedt operation includes, besides the cows, a "good line of machinery and a pretty good outlook on life in general," a good trio of assets.

A good cow, the experts say, should produce about 10 times her weight in milk in a year's time. The Linstedt Jerseys are averaging about 10½ times their weight, with a bit over half their poundage in butterfat.

Last year the cows pailed an average of 8,490 pounds of milk and 441 pounds of fat, for a milk total of about 170,000 pounds.

The Linstedt operation is, for all practical purposes, a family affair. Richard is married to the former Mary Jo Shields, a Marion girl whose father was a railroader. Does she like farm life? "Better every year," is Mr. Linstedt's comment. The couple are the parents of a nine-year-old, Larry, who is starting 4-H club work this year —with a Jersey project, naturally.

Richard has built his herd up around proven sires, rather than cows. All of his cows except one were raised on the farm and for some time now he's been an avid enthusiast of the artificial breeding program, using semen from Northern Ohio Breeders Association farm.

—:—

TIME WAS, though, when Mr. Linstedt kept his own bull. He was "Courageous Warrior" and he was so good that NOBA finally made its price high enough to take him off the Linstedt farm.

Today Richard is a firm believer and participator in the young sire program advocated by NOBA and other artificial breeding groups.

As of now, eight of the Linstedt Jerseys are classified "very good" by the Jersey Cattle Club of America, while five of them are "good plus." A "very good" cow must grade between 85 and 95 per cent perfection according to Jersey Club specifications.

Mr. Linstedt takes special pride in three of his current producers. "Courageous Warrior Annabelle," classified "very good," has completed three production records, all of which found her pailing over 500 pounds of fat. In one 305-day period, she milked 10,330 pounds of milk and 560 pounds of butterfat.

"Courageous Warrior Marquita," also "very good," gave down 8,747 pounds of milk and 500 pounds of fat on a 365-day test, while "Courageous Warrior Rosa," another "very good" classified cow, produced 11,994 pounds of milk and 523 pounds of fat. All three of these cows are daughters of the Warrior bull, now owned by NOBA.

—:—

RICHARD TAKES pride in the fact that so many of his cows are daughters of Warrior, since 13 of them, by virtue of test, produced 1,923 pounds of milk more than all Jersey cows on herd improvement registry test.

Mr. Linstedt follows a calfhood vaccination program and has his herd Bangs accredited. His cows are TB tested but as yet the herd is not accredited in this respect. "That's one of the things we're working towards," he says.

Linstedt Jerseys have made themselves known in the show ring too. Last year Richard took top honors in the district Jersey show at Kenton and in five county fairs — including Marion — with four heifers in the junior get-of-sire competition. And, he showed a son of the Warrior bull to a district show championship as a senior calf and as a senior yearling. Fred Isler, who later owned the bull, took top honors with him in the senior two-year-old category.

What of the future of dairying for the Linstedts? Things are looking up. The farm he operates was recently purchased by Lester Clymer of near Marion and Mr. Linstedt is soon to have a new milk house and possibly other accommodations to make his herd even better than it is now. Whether he will increase his herd's size depends, of course, on several factors. Suffice it to say, however, that Linstedt Jerseys are expected to continue as a top-grade herd, a herd that will insure Marion County its place as a significant dairy county in a significant dairy state.

PRIZE IN THE MAKING. Richard Linstedt, prominent Prospect Township Jersey breeder, looks for flaws in the stance of this soon-to-be yearling bull calf. Larry Linstedt, 9, who is beginning his first year of 4-H Club work, appears more interested in other things. This calf will be registered at one year of age and eventually will be sold by the Linstedts, who favor artificial breeding for their dairy herd.

Area Youths Are New Holstein Unit Members

The Holstein - Friesian Association of America has announced that five Marion area youths have been accepted as junior members of the organization.

The list includes Joy Smith, Carolyn Earl, Marilyn Zieg and Judith Ann Lust, all of near Marion, and Joe Clayton of near La-Rue.

All are eligible to membership for having done satisfactory dairy club work with registered Holsteins. Upwards of 24,000 youths in the 48 states have participated in the junior program since its founding in 1923.

Ohio Supreme Court's Decision Awaited on SUB Payments

Ruling Due On Appeal For Review

Refusal by Tribunal To Reconsider Case Would Release Funds

COLUMBUS, OHIO (AP)—Thousands of jobless workers looked to the Ohio Supreme court today for a nod to start collecting millions of dollars in supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB).

The court is expected to say in its regular 4 p.m. announcement whether SUB payments can start immediately or must await a later decision.

If the court refuses to review favorable SUB decisions by Mahoning County courts in two test cases, attorneys said payments could start promptly.

Final Decision on Merits

But if the court agrees to review, a final decision on merits of the cases will come laer.

Judges have not indicated whether such a decision could be handed down this month, as urged by Gov. C. William O'Neill, or might require considerable time.

Nor have they indicated whether such a decision would ban or sanction SUB payments concurrent with state unemployment compensation.

Lower courts held that jobless workers covered by SUB contracts could receive SUB and state jobless benefits at the same time.

Those decisions upset a ruling by James R. Tichenor, State Bureau of Unemployment Compensation administrator.

Tichenor's Position

He held that SUB is remuneration under Ohio's jobless compensation law and must be deducted from state unemployment benefits.

The state's maximum benefit is $39 a week for 26 weeks for a worker with a family.

SUB contracts between unions and employers are designed to supplement state benefits so that workers would receive about two-thirds of their take-home pay while unemployed.

The AFL-CIO Steelworkers Union challenged Tichenor's ruling in a declaratory judgment suit. Defendants are four steel companies: United States Steel, Republic Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Jones & Laughlin.

A second suit against Tichenor by Joseph Posey of Younghtown, a Republic Steel employe, is clear-cut on the issue of SUB without the question of court jurisdiction contained in the first case.

40,000 Eligible

O'Neill said if the way is cleared for SUB payments, about 40,000 Ohio jobless would be eligible for some 15 million dollars in back SUB benefits.

He added that weekly payments would range between $800,000 and a million dollars during further unemployment.

Aides of the governor said his figures came from steel and rubber industry sources.

Union spokesmen expressed belief the figures were too conservative. They reported last April that 90,000 laid off workers were eligible for SUB payments of $1,624,018 a week. They said the totals would run higher now.

The union report followed a still earlier estimate by Tichenor that only about 20,000 Ohio workers were eligible for about a half-million dollars a week in SUB benefits at that time.

Completes 50 Years With Railroad

Richwood Station Agent Given Gold Pass by the Erie

A gold railroad pass marking 50 years of service with the Erie Railroad system was presented this morning to Clifford H. Williamson, 68, Erie station agent at Richwood.

The pass, which entitles Mr. Williamson and his wife to free travel on the Erie passenger system, was presented by E. A. Blair, station supervisor from Marion.

Mr. Williamson first joined the Erie system as a telegraph operator on June 4, 1908, at Mingo in northeastern Champaign County. About a month later he became station agent at Pottersburg in Union County. He transferred to the Richwood station in January, 1928, and has been employed there ever since.

Active in Masonic work, he is a member of the Blue Lodge and the Star Chapter of Royal Arch Masons. He is a charter member of the Richwood Lions Club and is a member of the Richwood Board of Public Affairs. He also holds membership in the Erie Travel Club and the Erie Veterans Association.

When he's not working at the Richwood station, the veteran railroader likes to engage in do-it-yourself projects around his home in Richwood. He also is a travel enthusiast and has taken extensive trips during vacation periods.

Mr. Williamson is married to the former Alice Pricer of near Chillicothe.

of money over and above his own costs."

—:—

MAYOR STRONG'S action in vetoing the legislation will result in the calling of a special meeting of City Council to vote on overriding the veto. Councilman Richard Lister (R-at large) said Tuesday the sewer committee members will call the meeting at the earliest time allowed by law.

The city code rules that council may vote to override the veto 10 days after receiving it. The number of votes needed to override is six.

The legislation vetoed by the mayor is:

An ordinance authorizing a contract between the city and county for sewer service in County Sewer District 1.

A resolution declaring the extension of the Forest Lawn Dr. sewer south to the city limits necessary.

An ordinance to advertise for bids and sign contracts for construction of the extension.

An ordinance establishing a tapping fee in lieu of an assessment for properties on Forest Lawn Dr. abutting on the sewer extension.

In his objections, the mayor said that exempting the Royal Oaks and Vernon-Zachman Acres from the $100 tapping fee would mean the loss of $10,300 "that should be paid to the sewer revenue fund."

In objecting to the proposed tapping fee for Forest Lawn Dr. properties abutting on the proposed sewer extension, the mayor said that rate was set at $4.25 a front foot. He suggested the fee should be $6 a front foot.

THE MAYOR ALSO expressed concern that use of the estimated $36,000 to build the Forest Lawn Dr. sewer would jeopardize sewer projects proposed on Pearl St., Woodrow and Davids streets and Silver St.

The mayor said if the Forest Lawn Dr. extension is built, there may not be enough money for the Silver St project. "It will be up to council to answer to those people in the Silver St. section," he said.

On the proposed tapping fee for suburban properties in Sewer District 1, the mayor said he was not in favor of either the originally proposed $150 fee or the agreed $100 fee. "But," he said, "if we are going to have it, why exempt the . . . lots (in the Royal Oaks and Vernon-Zachman subdivisions) and then put such an excessive cost on the taxpayers inside the city limits?"

COUNTY AUDITOR Maurice C. Clements said that the district's total valuation as of last Dec. 31 was $2,148,930. The district's tax rate is 12.60 mills against 27.80 for the Ridgedale district.

Mr. Clements said as far as his office is concerned, the Marion Local district still qualifies for regular tax distributions. In April the district received $7,088 under the real estate tax distribution.

The Marion Local school board has been operating for the last five years independently. None of its officers has been up for re-election since the territory battle began. The board meets regularly on the first Tuesday of each month. It handles tuition payments to the city school system and also provides bus transportation for pupils in the district.

Members of the board are Roy J. Thompson, president; Theror Huntsman, vice president; Mr Parsell, clerk, and Robert E. White and Robert W. Williams.

The dispute between the county board and the school district erupted in December, 1953, after an Ohio law ordered dissolution of any school district not operating a school. Residents in the Marion Local district began circulating petitions for transfer to the city school district.

While the petitions were still circulating, the county board passed resolutions to transfer part of three districts—Green Camp, Morral and Marion Local—to the Meeker district which is now the Ridgedale district.

The county board said the transfer was based on a desire to equalize school populations and make contiguous the boundaries of the Green Camp and Meeker districts. The Marion Local district contended the move was made to manipulate tax valuation.

The transfer was upheld in Common Pleas Court and was appealed by the local board. The Third District Court of Appeals upheld a motion by the county board to dismiss the action but certified the case to the Ohio Supreme Court because its decision conflicted with a similar appellate ruling.

2 Local Churches Plan Vacation Bible School

Two churches in Marion planning a Vacation Bible School for children in the east section of the city are Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church and First Church of the Brethren with the classes to be held in the Brethren Church beginning Monday.

"Bible Sea Adventures" is the theme. Sessions will be each weekday from 9 a.m. until 11:45 through June 20. Part of the extensive activity will be in hand work, games and stories for children from 3 years of age through the teens. Teachers and helpers will be from both churches under the direction of Mrs. Willis Lamb. Those wishing more information may get in touch with her by telephone at 2-5610, she announced.

A closing program is set for the night of the closing date at the Brethren Church with parents and friends of the pupils attending.

Chrysler Gets Order To Put Out Jupiters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army's Jupiter missile, staging a dramatic comeback from an order that almost sent it to the ash-can, is headed for large-scale production.

The Pentagon said it has authorized the creation of a complete production line for Jupiter missiles at the Chrysler Corp.'s Warren, Mich., plant.

The decision, giving a new lease on life to the big intermediate range ballistic missile, is believed to stem from the latest firing of a Jupiter May 18 at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The Army said that shot attained complete success in firing a full-size nose cone through the atmosphere and delivering it intact onto a target area 1,600 miles away.

A Defense Department official said the Jupiter now will be turned out in volume at both the Chrysler plant and the Army's Redstone Arsenal in Alabama, where the 1,600-mile-range missile was developed.

Late last year the Pentagon ordered the Jupiter program dropped. But the Defense Department decided later the Army should continue development and production.

The Air Force has been pushing for exclusive production of its own IRBM, the Thor. The Pentagon official, who asked that his name not be used, made it apparent there will have to be a decision ultimately on whether to go ahead with one or the other or both.

Marion Man Ordered To Support Children

Richard Johnson, 31, of 718 Kentucky Ave. pleaded guilty in Marion Municipal Court Tuesday to a charge of failing to comply with a previous court order directing him to support his minor children.

On his plea of guilty he was given a sentence of six months in the Columbus Workhouse. The sentence was deferred providing he immediately pay $100 for the support of his family.

He also was placed on probation for six months and was ordered to pay $5 a week for 24 weeks, to pay $120 on which he is arrears in support payments, and to pay $15 a week as regular support payments for his minor children.

The order which he failed to comply with was issued by the court last July 18 and in it he was ordered to pay $150 in arrears and $15 a week for the support of his children. When he failed to comply, a bench warrant for his arrest was issued by Judge W. Dexter Hazen.

Ike

The capacity audience of 11,000 in the academy's big new fieldhouse gave Eisenhower a standing ovation at the start and conclusion of his talk, but listened in solemn silence all the while he spoke.

After his talk the President personally presented diplomas to 145 honor men among the 900 graduates. The first man in his class was John W. Poindexter of Odon, Ind.

Eisenhower congratulated Poindexter and shook his hand, then chatted with him for a moment.

There was another big hand when Eisenhower handed a diploma to Edwin W. (Ned) Oldham, football star who played a big part in Navy's victory over Army last fall.

The President flew here from Washington by helicopter to address the class of '58. It was the first time he had attended graduation ceremonies here and his visit to the academy since he took office in 1953.

Boys' Animal Cemetery Becoming Overcrowded

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—There's a little graveyard here with a flock of markers, called Animal Hill in the manner of the Western badmen's cemetery, Boot Hill.

Ten-year-olds Jerry Williams, Terry Hill and Larry Martin said they got started with a blue jay that forgot to go south for the winter. Now there are crosses for 15 birds, two rats, one hamster and one snake.

"We kept finding the birds," Larry said. "After we started putting up the crosses, other people would bring them." Now there's a painted sign labelling the place.

Chest Agency Okays Budget For 1958-59

The 1958-59 budget for the Salvation Army was unanimously approved by members of the Army advisory board when they met Tuesday afternoon in the Citadel.

The budget is to be presented to the Community Foundation of which the Salvation Army is a participating agency.

Harry L. Dowler, chairman of the board, presided for the meeting which was opened with prayer by Maj. Mary Nisiewicz.

Presenting the budget was J. B. Bray, finance chairman, in the absence of Harold J. Grigsby, chairman of the budget committee.

In other business, Cecil Gabler, chairman of the youth committee, discussed plans for the opening of the playground later this month and Norvall Foreman, welfare committee chairman, outlined plans for transporting Marion children to Salvation Army Camp Swoneky, near Lebanon, for the summer camping period. The camp is to be dedicated June 28 and a caravan from Marion is expected to attend the ceremonies.

The house committee chairman, Cutler McGrew, gave a report on the work being done on the lawn at the Citadel. The Dirt Daubers Garden Club has taken the landscaping of the lawn as its project.

Maj. Nisiewicz announced the transfer of Lt. S. Geraldine Carr from Marion to the Cumminsville Corps in Cincinnati. Succeeding her at the Marion corps will be Lt. Caryl Andrews, who has just completed her work at the New York training school. She is scheduled to report here June 11.

Harvey

side Marion County, there was no commission ruling that civil service employes must reside in Marion County.

Mr. Harvey first moved outside Marion County to a farm in Union County in 1953 and on Jan. 1, 1956, the commission adpted a ruling that civil service employes could live outside the city within five miles of the courthouse and on Dec. 5, 1956, this was amended to include all of Marion County. Mr. Harvey had moved from Union to Morrow County in October, 1956, the board decision notes.

Because Mr. Harvey lived outside the county before any rule was adopted requiring civil service employes to live in the county, the new rule could not be made retroactive to require him to move back into the county, the trial board ruled.

On the procedure used in Mr. Harvey's dismissal, Judge Ruzzo said that the legal procedure would have been for the police chief first to dismiss him from the force and then report his action to the safety-service director, who could either affirm, modify or reverse the chief's action.

This course of action was not followed in Mr. Harvey's case in that the police chief did not first dismiss him, Judge Ruzzo explained.

Patrolman Harvey now will be returned to duty with the police department and all his back pay and allowances must be paid, unless the city appeals the case to Common Pleas Court.

Prior to his dismissal, Mr. Harvey had 10 years service with the police department.

Other members of the trial board were Municipal Judge W. Dexter Hazen and E. L. Mitchell.

Further Check Of Sewer Is Set

City sewer crews plan to block off a portion of the W. Center St. sewer early Thursday in further attempts to locate the source of an oily substance which has been entering the sewer for more than a week.

Safety-Service Director Howard W. Travis said that a check of the sewer at W. Center and Scioto streets and Fies Ave. today indicated the flow of the liquid into the sewer has increased.

He still has not received a report on a chemical analysis being made of samples of the substance by a private laboratory in Columbus.

The liquid, with a strong kerosene odor, has been flowing through the W. Center St. sewer since early last week and apparently is entering the sewer somewhere between Scioto St. and Fies Ave.

A previous check of the sewer in that area disclosed no cracks or connections to it.

By blocking off the flow in the sewer tomorrow morning, the sewer crews and city engineers hope to be able to determine if there is a crack or connection into the bottom of the sewer that was not spotted when the sewer was checked previously.

'Old Pro' Candidate for Ives' Seat

GOP Uneasy as Farley Enters New York Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans viewed with some misgivings today the entry of James A. Farley into the New York senatorial scramble.

Farley, the old pro of the first two elections of Franklin D. Roosevelt, announced in New York Tuesday he will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the Senate. Twice the Democratic national chairman, he retired from active politics in 1944.

This projected return to politics of the genial former postmaster general complicated an already involved situation in his own party. It gave no cheer to Republicans seeking agreement on a candidate to succeed retiring GOP Sen. Irving M. Ives.

Nominees of both parties will be chosen at conventions late in August.

Sen. Andrew F. Schoeppel (R-Kan), chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said Farley's move was not unexpected.

"If Jim Farley can get the nomination, he will be a formidable candidate," Schoeppel said. "If he is the nominee, our Republican friends in New York will have their work cut out for them."

Although Farley is 70, his chances of getting the nomination were generally regarded as fairly good by party politicians to whom he is widely known.

However, Gov. Averell Harriman, a candidate to succeed himself, apparently is going to have a great deal to say about the state convention's choice of the senatorial nominee. Harriman stood by FDR when Farley broke with his chief over the third term.

Harriman is credited in some quarters with favoring Thomas K. Finletter, former secretary of the Air Force and a close friend of Adlai E. Stevenson, twice the party's presidential nominee.

Republicans believe that Leonard W. Hall, former Republican national chairman, has the nod from former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and his associates for the nomination to contest Harriman for the governorship.

His chief potential rivals are Nelson A. Rockefeller, philanthropist who has held federal posts under both Republican and Democratic administrations; and State Sen. Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo, GOP majority leader.

Neither Rockefeller nor Mahoney has announced his candidacy.

No one is openly seeking the GOP Senate nomination in New York.

Save gasoline! Get back 20 to 30 horsepower lost by spark plug "miss."

If you'd like to stop wasting power and gasoline and start getting your money's worth out of top octane . . . switch today to Super Shell with TCP*.

Super Shell is packed with aromatics as used in aviation gasoline. Their extra combustion energy converts automatically to give extra miles per gallon. And they provide higher octane, so that engine knock is no longer a problem.

But in today's engines, anti-knock alone is not enough. That's why Super Shell with TCP adds anti-miss to anti-knock. TCP additive neutralizes power-wasting combustion deposits and ends spark plug "miss"—today's major cause of power loss. Dodgers Holding Slim Lead in Los Angeles Voting

Heavy Election Turnout Delays Stadium Decision

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Dodgers' held a slim lead today in voting to determine whether they will be permitted to build a glamorous new stadium in Chavez Ravine.

The last returns announced before counting was interrupted early today put the Dodgers ahead 47,471 votes to 43,453.

The 90,924 votes tabulated represented between 10 and 11 per cent of the total ballots.

Dodger President Walter O'Malley met with newsmen today and said: "What can I say? It's jus. too close to say anything."

Leader Satisfied

City Councilman Patrick McGee, one of the leaders of opposition to the stadium deal said: "It's too soon to tell. But I'm satisfied. The issue has been submitted to the people. And that's what we wanted. . . .

"The outlying districts are already showing a leading margin for the 'no' side. And this may offset the small margin the downtown districts showed in the early counting."

The extraordinary local interest in the Chavez Ravine issue was noted by O'Malley.

"I was intrigued," he said, "in the interest in the referendum as indicated by the headlines in the Los Angeles newspapers. The senatorial and gubernatorial elections were secondary."

The unusual voter turnout was held largely responsible for the sluggish rate at which returns were being announced. Veteran newsmen said they could not recall when election results were so slow.

Simple Majority Needed

It would take a simple majority for the Dodgers to win the Chavez Ravine property, located just a mile from the Civic Center.

The deal submitted to the voters as Proposition B, would convey some 300 acres of Chavez Ravine property to the ball club in exchange for Dodger-owned Wrigley park.

The Dodgers would spend up to 12 million dollars on a new four-tiered stadium seating about 52,000. They also would construct a 40-acre public recreation park in the ravine at a cost of up to $500,000 and would maintain it at a cost of $60,000 a year for 20 years.

The city would spend up to two million dollars grading the ravine site for the team and the county would invest $2,740,000 on access roads.

Braves Locate Range, Regain NL's Top Spot

By The Associated Press

The Milwaukee Braves have rediscovered the home run, slamming back into the National League lead by walloping 12 in their last four games.

The champs belted five, their best one-game total of the year, and made them good for all but one of their runs in a 7-6 decision at San Francisco Tuesday night. The Giants were shoved back into second place, .010 percentage points behind.

Covington, Aaron Connect

Wes Covington and Hank Aaron each hit a pair. Covington's second hauled the Braves from behind in the eighth inning and Aaron's second clinched it in the ninth.

There were at least two home runs in every NL game Tuesday—except at Los Angeles. That cozy corner in the Coliseum gave up just one, a sliced shot by Duke Snider, as Cincinnati used a bunch of walks for an 8-3 victory over the Dodgers.

St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 8-4 on two-run homers by Stan Musial and Joe Cunningham, and the Chicago Cubs clobbered Philadelphia 12-4 with Ernie Banks hitting his 14th homer, tops in the NL.

Musial Hits No. 390

Cunningham's second home run of the season junked a 4-all tie against losing reliever Curt Raydon (0-2) in the fourth for the Cardinals. Musial slugged his 390th in the majors, ninth this year, in the sixth. He drove in three runs. Larry Jackson won his fourth although allowing 10 hits, including home runs by Bob Skinner and Bill Mazeroski.

Banks was 4-for-4 for the Cubs, who also had a homer from Cal Neeman as unbeaten Taylor Phillips won his fourth. Curt Simmons lost his sixth.

Rotary Hears of Jet Youth Program

Two Columbus Baseball Officials Talk About Club Operations

"We have put great expectations into production. We ahe accomplishing our mission."

Thus did Fred Jones, president of the Columbus Jets baseball organization, conclude his talk Tuesday at the noon meeting of the Marion Rotary Club in Hotel Harding.

—:—

JONES AND Harold Cooper, general manager of the team, were guest speakers. Expected to be present, but unable to attend, were Clyde King, Jets manager, and Hank Gowdy, former major leaguer, now director of youth activities in Columbus.

Jones, introduced by Wilson Tway, program chairman, noted that the unique plan under which the Columbus Jets operates is, to his knowledge, practiced no where else in the nation.

He explained that the Jets club is affiliated with the Columbus Youth Foundation and, as such, is a non-profit organization. Profits from the season's schedule are plowed into the foundation.

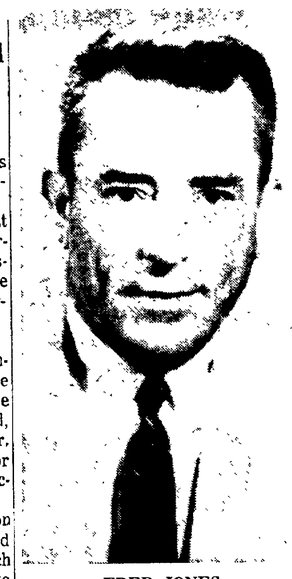
"Our aim," Jones asserted, "is to help the youth groups down in the sticks which do not otherwise fall into line for funds given annually to countless other better-known organizations."

—:—

THE JETS' president said he could "never see the profit element in baseball."

"Proceeds from baseball should be turned back into the community supporting the activity," he said.

Jones observed that upwards of 36 youth organizations currently are being helped in Columbus through the Jets' system of operation. "We choose the recipients of our help," he declared, "and you can be sure we're getting to some well deserving youngsters."



FRED JONES
President of Jets

HAROLD M. COOPER
Club's General Manager

The speaker noted that when the franchise for what is now the Jets organization was purchased from the Kansas City Athletics, the ball park in Columbus was included in the deal for $450,000.

"In three years we have paid off $225,000 of that amount," Jones said. "When the park is paid for in several years hence, we'll have an additional $75,000 a year to put into our system for helping these youth groups."

He observed in conclusion, "We think our plan is working. And, we think it's born of the highest ideals."

—:—

HAROLD COOPER, speaking only briefly, observed that after three years of winding up as a seventh place ball club, the Jets this season look the best ever.

"We're in fourth place now, have been since season's start, and we're all hoping this is to be the year we've been waiting for."

The top trouble shooter for the Jets suggested that baseball may be too complicated for fans to enjoy it today. "To be a good fan, you've got to understand what goes on on the field. Ball players must do everything good. Perhaps the game's taken on too much of a perfection color," he said. "But it's still the best of sports."

Serving as master of ceremonies was Lewis Ashworth.

Guests, introduced by Stewart Norris, included Charles Pfeifer of Upper Sandusky, visiting Rotarian; Nathaniel Burt of Gap, Pa., father of Jasper Burt; and John Rall, Michael Hamper, Dr. Daniel Murphy, Robert Kraner and Lewis Thompson, all of Marion.

Promoter Irritated

Golfers Passing Up Dallas Play To Practice for Open

DALLAS (AP) — Promoter Jim Ling of the $25,000 Dallas Open smouldered today over so many top golfers skipping his tournament but he still maintained that he would have one of the best fields of the year when the 72-hole grind starts Thursday.

Ling fired a protest to the PGA Tuesday when he learned that Masters champion Arnold Palmer, Bill Casper, Paul Harney and Jay Hebert had joined the growing list of players who won't be here because they reportedly want to practice at Tulsa for the National Open. He didn't expect to get anywhere with the protest since the four were not in the official tournament list.

Ben Hogan previously had passed up the tournament to practice at Tulsa. National Open champion Dick Mayer and National PGA champion Lionel Hebert can't make it because of National Golf Day. Several of the minor lights are staying out because of the travel involved and because of the injuries, etc.

But Sam Snead, a major attraction for any tournament, and Ken Venturi, the brilliant young man from San Francisco who has won more tournaments this year than anybody—three, are in the field.

New Bloomington Teams Open Play By Clipping Essex

New Bloomington's entry in the newly-formed Tri-County League whipped Essex 5-3 Tuesday night at the winners' field.

In addition to New Bloomington and Essex, the league is composed of teams from LaRue, Byhalia, Ridgeway and Mount Victory.

The winners pushed over two runs in the opening inning and added three in the fifth for last night's victory. Larry Basil was on the hill and blanked the foe through the first five frames. Then Essex pushed over all three runs before Basil could put down the threat. The New Bloomington pitching ace finished with 13 strike outs. Three of the Marion County hitters went down swinging.

Phil Schaber blasted a two-run homer to highlight the winners' rally in the fifth. Catcher John Jolliff rapped out two hits in three trips to the plate while Larry and Duane Basil each belted doubles.

It was the opening of league play and New Bloomington will play host to LaRue Thursday night. On Friday, the team will play Waldo in the Marion County League.

The new league is limited to boys under 17 years of age. In addition a farm league has been organized by the same schools for boys 8-12. The N[illegible] Bloomington farm team pounded out a 21-8 win over Essex Monday night.

John Everetts and Richard Persinger shared the pitching with Everetts getting the win. Russell Dennis led a 16-hit attack with four safeties. Nelson Basil and David Miller each had three hits.

Ted Williams, hitting .388 during the 1957 season to lead major league batters, had a .397 average for games played during the daytime.

Reds Bump Dodgers in Gift Victory

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Manager Birdie Tebbetts might just as well have saved his energy when he told his Cincinnati Redlegs to ignore the short left fence here and concentrate on a normal swing at the bat.

At least for Tuesday night the Redlegs didn't have to do much bat swinging.

They got only five hits off an assortment of five Los Angeles Dodger pitchers but they came up with an 8-3 victory as the Dodger hurlers handed out nine walks, contributed a wild pitch and allowed a runner to steal home.

To make the situation even stranger, 12 Redlegs struck out.

First Complete Game

Brooks Lawrence completed his first starting pitching assignment of the season and his first since last Sept. 18. He also gave up only five hits but he staggered around at times like a punch drunk prize fighter. The Dodgers came close several times to knocking him out but he always came through with enough to halt them.

Although the Redlegs, with the lineup studded with right handed hitters, never came close to bothering the short left field screen, they never needed such hitting after the third inning when they scored six runs on only one hit.

In that frame Sandy Koufax got two men out after walking Gus Bell and then walked three straight hitters to force in a run. He threw two more balls to Steve Bilko before Don Bessent was rushed in.

Bessent finished the job of walking Bilko to force in another run.

Hoak Smashes Double

After that Don Hoak doubled to drive in three runs and he went to third on the play at the plate. The fiery third sacker added insult to the Dodger injury by stealing home.

Cincinnati did a little more hitting when it scored its last two runs in the sixth but the Redlegs still had some Los Angeles help. Singles by Bilko, Hoak and Pete Whisenant loaded the bases and Bilko scored on Fred Kipp's wild pitch. Hoak scored on Lawrence's sacrifice fly.

Tonight Harvey Haddix will try for another one against Johnny Podres of the Dodgers.

Fish, Game Group Planning Ox Roast

Seventy-five members attended the monthly meeting of the Marion County Fish and Game Association, held Tuesday in the clubhouse, with President Robert Gebby presiding.

The Association is to participate once again in the pheasant raising program being carried on by the Division of Wildlife. The pheasant pen was built last year when such participation was inaugurated.

Plans are moving along for the Annual Ox Roast. This big event is scheduled for July 19. The public is invited to attend. Tickets now are available from many association members as well as officers and trustees.

Francis Warwick is ox roast chairman. A number of sub-committees are being organized to carry on details of preparation.

A countywide Wildlife Council has been organized, with representatives from conservation clubs of Waldo, Meeker and Marion. This group will meet as necessary to consider problems of mutual interest to that participating organizations.

Bosox Win 7-3

Tribe Skids to 5th After 4th Setback

BOSTON (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, struggling along with a four-game losing streak, sent Ray Narleski (6 - 4) against Boston's Frank Sullivan (2-1) in the second game of a three-game series today.

The Indians were whipped by the Red Sox 7-3 Tuesday night, the second time this season they had lost as many as four in a row.

Load Bases in Ninth

The Tribe loaded the bases in the ninth on successive singles by Rocky Colavito, Russ Nixon and Chico Carrasquel, his third of the game.

It appeared Cleveland was going to get back into the contest, chasing starter Tom Brewer in the process. But Murray Wall was summoned from the bullpen and the ace relief man set the Indians down on just eight pitches.

The victory ended Boston's three-game losing spell and dropped the Indians into fifth place, only percentage points ahead of Chicago.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant failed again in a bid for his fifth victory and was tagged instead with his third loss.

Dick Gernert Connects

Boston held a 2-0 lead in the fourth inning and Dick Gernert's three-run homer in the fifth made it 5-0.

Held to one hit in six innings by Brewer, the Tribe scored three times in the seventh frame, but the Red Sox added two clinching runs that same inning.

Cleveland used three pitchers in addition to Grant, who hurled four innings—Dick Tomanek, Bob Kelly and Hoyt Wilhelm.

Independents Defeat Mac's, Tie for First

Two Commercial League softball games were played Tuesday night and in one of them Mac's Trading Post suffered its first defeat of the season, tumbling to the Marion Independents in a 3-0 shutout.

In the other game, the Marion Merchants buried the Trinity Lutheran nine under a 13-1 barrage.

The Mac's loss, however, was not sufficient to boost them out of first place in the current standings, although they are now tied with the Independents with a 4-1 mark.

Sonny Taylor twirled for the victorious Independents, with Dick Gherman behind the plate. Taylor handcuffed Mac stickmen with virtual ease, allowing but two hits. Dick Roseberry belted a double in the fourth and Chuck Baker got a single in the sixth. Otherwise, it was all Independents.

The winners reached Mac pitcher Bud England for two runs in the second on a triple by Bob Saull which scored Bob Weston and Sonny Taylor. The other run was a round-tripper by Don Johnson in the third. Saull got on in the first on a triple but failed to score.

The Marion Merchants tallied twice in the first inning, two more times in the second, five times in the fourth and four times in the fifth, to furnish more than enough support for Jim Kunkle's pitching. Bob Higgins was the receiver.

Trinity got one run in the first and that was all.

The Merchants got 13 runs on 15 hits and played flawless ball; Trinity was one for four and errored once. Leffler and Lunquist were the Trinity battery.

Trinity got its one run when Lill doubled, went to third on an infield out and scored on a sacrifice fly.

A total of 12 hits, eight walks, an error, a sacrifice and a hit batsman accounted for the Merchants' scores.

As of now, with Mac's and the Independents on top with 4-1 marks, Merchants are 2-3 and Trinity Lutheran 0 for 5 in the season.

YMCA Begins Class in Judo

The Marion YMCA Judo Club will begin its summer season Thursday at 7:30 p.m. it was announced today by Dean Ludwig, adult program director and judo instructor at the "Y." The class will be open to high school and adult personnel and will meet on the first and third Thursday throughout the summer at 7:30.

The club will accept beginning and advanced students of the "gentle art" and persons of both sexes are welcome to attend. Those within the class will practice against persons of their own sex and skill level. During the course the class will touch upon the fundamentals of judo as a sport and will then move in to the application of these fundamentals to the art of defense and attack. Due to the nature of the sport, size and strength of the person is of little importance, but rather the ability of the person to learn the skills involved and apply them with speed and assurance determines who will win. Judo is a sport that is fast taking the country by storm with judo clubs springing up in major points all over the continent. This is the only class of pure Judo that has been offered to the city of Marion other than an abreviated session held late this spring.

Persons interested in taking part in the class are urged to be on hand at the first session Thursday evening. Equipment needed will be simply a strong jacket, slacks, and either socks or bare feet, no gym shoes are allowed.

Stanford May Quit PCC Play

SEATTLE (AP) — The Pacific Coast Conference, which has endured attacks from within and without for 43 years, was tottering on the brink of oblivion today.

The Stanford University board of trustees probably will administer the coup de grace to the PCC when the board meets at Stanford June 19.

At that time the board will undoubtedly be asked to permit Stanford to jump the PCC and line up with Washington, California, UCLA and Southern California in a new "Big Five" athletic association.

Washington set the PCC up for the kill Tuesday when the UW board of regents said, yes, Washington can quit the PCC, if Washington can form a new alliance with California, UCLA and Southern California.

The action was taken on the apparent assumption that Stanford would go along with the proposed new alignment, which would take the backbone from the coast conference.

The only remaining members of the PCC, as of July 1, 1959, would be Washington State, Idaho, Oregon State and Oregon.

Loop Games Won By Moose, Eagles

In a pair of Pony-Grad League baseball games played Tuesday night, Moose defeated the Moulders 8-5 and the Eagles downed the Elks 9-4.

The Moose scored eight runs on nine hits, with Beaver going the route for the victory. Moulder stickmen tallied five times on four safeties, with Traugh tagged for the loss.

Top batters for the victors were Sanders and Kirby, both of whom clouted a brace of hits. Traugh turned the trick for the Moulders.

The Eagles scored in every inning except the third and seventh to turn back the Elks, 9-4.

Dulin went the distance for the winners, getting the win; Evans hurled for the Elks and was charged with the defeat.

Eagles runners crossed the plate for one run in the first, another in the second, three in the fourth, one in the fifth and three in the sixth. For the Elks, it was one run in the first, two in the sixth and one in the seventh.

Radnor's Pitcher Misses No-Hitter, Defeats Caledonia

RADNOR — Radnor's Ted Coonfare, making his first appearance as a pitcher, narrowly missed a no-hit game here Tuesday night in clipping Caledonia 9-1 in a Marion County Baseball League tilt.

The Radnor hurler had a no-hit chore in the offing with two men out in the seventh inning. Then the Donians' Bob Agnes broke the spell by cracking out a triple. Agnes managed to race home with Caledonia's only run on a passed ball. The Radnor pitcher struck out 13.

Backing up Coonfare's mound job, the Trojans pounded out seven hits against a pair of Caledonia hurlers. Tom Tomlin started on the mound but gave way to Agnes in the second frame. Tomlin was charged with the loss.

Leading the winning attack was Ralph Garrison, Radnor first baseman. He smacked a triple, double and single to drive home four runs.

It was the second league victory for Radnor who will be at Prospect next week.

Tight Contests Feature Little League Action

In Little League baseball Tuesday night, National City Bank clouted Isaly's 6-2 in an American loop fracas, while Whirlpool downed Baker Wood 2-1 and Empire slipped past Baldauf 2-1 in two Federal League contests.

National City Bank scored six runs on six hits and made one error in turning back the Isaly nine 6-2. The latter posted two runs on three hits. Both teams were guilty of one error.

Thomas started for the victors, struck out 13, issued two bases on balls and got credit for the win. Leonard went the distance for the Bankers, fanned four, walked five and suffered the defeat.

Bank runners tallied twice in the first inning, once in the third and three times in the fifth. Isaly's scored one run in the first and one in the fifth.

National City's Glenn was top batsman, getting a pair of singles and a double in three trips.

Whirlpool tallied twice on two hits to turn back Baker Wood 2-1. The Woodmen managed four safeties.

Thomas took the rubber for Whirlpool and registered seven strikeouts en route to victory. Metzger was the losing pitcher. He whiffed six.

Whirlpool scored once in the second and once in the sixth, both times on single hits. Baker Wood scored its only run in the third.

Empire put two hits together for two runs in the fourth inning to post a high enough score to beat the Baldauf nine. Baldauf clouted six hits all told, but managed but one run, that in the sixth on two hits.

Thomas hurled for the victors, posting seven strikeouts. Firestone was on the hill for Baldauf and was charged with the defeat. He fanned a total of 12 Empire batters en route to defeat.

Miami Golfer Tops Titlist in British Chase

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) —Jack Penrose, a 43-year-old insurance man from Miami, Fla., upset defending champion Reid Jack of Scotland 3 and 2 in the third round of the British Amateur Golf Championship today.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

How To Live Dangerously

George Schaefer, who directs and produces virtually all of the Hallmark Playhouse programs, claims he probably has directed more television with fewer originals than any other TV director.

JOHN CROSBY

Seems like an odd thing to boast about, except that Schaefer's unoriginals are among the most distinguished things that ever have been on television. Shakespeare, Bernard Shaw, Gilbert & Sullivan are just a few of the authors whose work he has directed and the list includes "Hamlet," "Richard III," "Macbeth," 'The Devil's Disciple," The Taming of the Shrew," 'The Lark" and "Yeoman of the Guard."

-:-

IN THE SEASON just over with he directed "Green Pastures," which some think was the best dramatic work of the year; "Little Moon of Alban," which may be the best TV original of the year, and "Dial M for Murder," which has my vote for providing the most sheer dramatic fun for a solid 90 minutes.

At the moment, Schaefer is taking the summer off and his way of taking it off is to direct five musicals in Dallas, Tex. The five: "Oklahoma!", "Guys and Dolls," "Most Happy Fella," The King and I" and Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." (I can't think how that last one crept into so eminent a list.)

Schaefer cheerfully admits that musicals never have done really well on television and some of them have been pretty close to total disasters.

"Just the same, I definitely want to do musicals on Hallmark," he said. "For awhile we thought we could get the rights to 'Wonderful Town.' (It went to CBS for a fairly astronomical figure.) It has what television musicals ought to have. I'd throw out big scenes and concentrate on the iddividual songs and duets.

"Another show I'd love to do is 'Kiss Me Kate.' We're still hoping we might do that next year."

-:-

FROM THE VERY beginning, Hallmark has aimed at the heights of dramatic expression. Its commercial slogan is "When you care enough to send the very best . . ." and it feels the plays ought to exemplify those words.

Sometimes Hallmark hits, sometimes it misses, but the aim is always high. And there are still many tough and rewarding assignments Schaefer would like to tackle.

"I think Judith Anderson ought to do her 'Medea' on television. I'd love to do 'Winterset.' I hear Tony Perkins would like to tackle the old Burgess Meredith role and it is the sort of play that would be wonderful on television.

"Another show I'd love to do would be 'Death of a Salesman.' They did it on TV in London and it was a shattering experience. I'd also like to try Ibsen and Chekhov, but there's a certain amount of resistance to those playwrights."

SCHAEFER ADMITS he's a lucky guy because he has a sponsor who is willing to gamble on culture. Incidentally, he points out that mail from viewers has enormous influence.

"The mail on 'Little Moon of Alban' was fabulous. It was tremendous, too, on 'Cradle Song,' which actually we were a little nervous about. People don't realize what tremendous good they do in reassuring a dubious sponsor by their letters." (So if you want the very best in TV, write.)

In its five years on television (counting the years 1953 to 1955 when it did mostly one shots — "Macbeth," etc.), Schaefer thinks Hallmark's best production was "The Lark," with Julie Harris playing Joan of Arc. Whether it was "best" or not, it was certainly wonderful.

"But everybody forgot it when the time came to hand out the awards. You wait and see — they'll forget the Costigan play ("Little Moon of Alban") next year when award time comes around."

Schaefer, who has directed films and Broadways plays, is helplessly enamoured of live television:

"I still think the director should live dangerously. On live TV, you have to master-mind the whole show. There are no out-of-town tryouts where the audience tells you what's funny and what isn't, what part drags and what part doesn't. We must decide once and for all what is good and what is not.

"That I like."

Bucyrus Mayor Gives His Son Stiff Sentence

BUCYRUS — Mayor Joe L. Sullivan gave no leniency this morning when his son appeared before him on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market nudged ahead for narrow gains in active trading early this afternoon.

Gains of most leading stocks were fractional. There were scattered losers.

Some leading steels, aircrafts, chemicals and oils made limited gains. Motors, nonferrous metals and rails were mixed. Airlines and rubbers were off a bit.

A certain amount of profit taking was apparent after three straight sessions of new average highs for 1958. Investment buying was still apparent, however, and the general run of business and economic news brought no drastic change.

Fractional gains were made by U. S. Steel and Bethlehem. Youngstown Sheet was off slightly.

Lorillard dropped about a point and American Tobacco rose a fraction.

Piper Aircraft jumped 2¼ to 21 ⅛ on a big block of 7,000 shares.

Chrysler rose a little following news that the Pentagon has authorized the firm to set up a production line for its Jupiter missile at Warren, Mich. Other motors performed indifferently.

American Telephone was traded heavily and was about unchanged.

U.S. government bonds were firm to slightly higher.

Galion Council Studying Play Activities Plan

Coach Gives Proposal For Program; Cost of $1,500 Is Estimated

GALION — City Council Tuesday night established a Park Recreational Advisory committee, in a resolution authorizing Mayor Edward H. Jones to appoint such a committee, and also heard a tentative program for supervised play at Galion's three parks.

The resolution provides that the committee shall not exceed nine members and that it will make recommendations to the mayor on the supervisors to be appointed by the mayor.

Being Investigated

The whole program is pending investigation of available funds. George Joachim, elementary school principal, and Harold Friar, Galion High School teacher, estimated that $1,500 will be needed for a program of eight weeks. If funds can be secured from the city coffers, the program would start June 16 and run through Aug. 8, it was pointed out.

Carroll Kent, Galion High School basketball and track coach, presented a tentative play program. He said supervised play would be held three times a week, with a half-day each time at each park, for both boys and girls. The program would provide a man and a woman as instructors, with a third supervisor for special activities. There would be two age groups for both boys and girls, 7 to 9 and 9 to 12. The program would last from 1 to 3:30 p.m.

There would be one full afternoon for young people, 13 to 15, Mr. Kent said. It also was pointed out that an evening program could be planned to include dancing, volleyball and other events, if the city can blacktop an area in Heise park.

Receive Petitions

A petition from retail merchants, asking that Council enforce the city ordinance which restricts peddlers, particularly those selling fruits and vegetables in the city, was read. Petitioners were represented by Attorney Kenneth M. Petri. He spoke briefly, stating he understood the persons who are peddling fruits and vegetables, are not licensed to do so according to city ordinance, and that the persons who do the vending are not those who raise the products. He also suggested that legislation be passed to have the vegetables inspected to comply with health laws.

The petition was referred to Council committee on laws, petitions and ordinances, in conjunction with the board of health.

Council also was petitioned by some 45 property owners protesting procedure with N. Market St. storm sewer as the city engineer's estimate of assessments has not been completed.

The employment of Walter A. Drane of Cleveland, to arrange a 1958 supplement of codified ordinances of the city, was authorized.

Service - Safety Director Paul Willhelm reported the city is now oiling certain streets, and that by the end of the month the resurfacing program will begin, with plans to resurface 30 city blocks.

Debt of Conservancy District For Flood Control Amortized

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — The burning of $1,350,000 worth of bonds Tuesday night officially ended the flood control indebtedness of the 18-county Muskingum Watershed Conservancy District.

The bond burning on the stage of the Zanesville High School auditorium featured a day-long celebration of the 25th anniversary of the district's founding.

A crowd estimated at 1,000 heard speeches by Gov. C. William O'Neill, U. S. Rep. John E. Henderson, Cambridge Republican, and Robert T. Secrest, a member of the Federal Trade Commission. Secrest was formerly a congressman from Ohio's 15th district when the conservancy dams were built.

Gov. O'Neill in his speech noted that as a Marietta native he had gone through several devastating floods.

"So I know first-hand the tremendous accomplishments of the Muskingum Conservancy District in the fields of flood control, conservation and recreation," he added.

After overcoming initial problems, the governor said, the district in recent years has become a self-sustaining project with no requirements for federal aid.

An 8 - by - 15-foot mosaic tile plaque was presented to the district by the people of Zanesville. Receiving it was Bryce C. Browning of New Philadelphia, secretary-treasurer of the district since its inception.

Petition Circulators Busy

Battle Lines Set in Ohio Over Ban of Union Shop

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Petition circulators are busy in all 88 counties these days.

Labor unions are just as active, or soon will be, in urging Ohioans not to sign the petitions.

The campaigns stem from efforts to have voters decide at the polls next Nov. 4 whether workers in many Ohio industries must join a union to keep their jobs.

Election officials predict the drives will combine with activities of office seekers to bring out a heavy vote.

An organization called Ohioans for Right to Work, Inc., says confidently that enough signatures will be obtained to place the issue on ballots in the form of a change in the state constitution.

Claim Disputed

That claim is disputed by major unions which have formed a group known as United Organized Labor of Ohio. AFL-CIO unionists and officials of the United Mine Workers and Railroad Brotherhoods assert the drive for signatures is meeting increased resistance.

The right to work organization must file with the secretary of state 354,210 valid signatures by Aug. 5 to qualify the proposed constitutional amendment for a decision at the polls.

Proposal Stated

Voter approval of the amendment would ban union-shop contracts in Ohio. Existing contracts would have a two-year grace period for termination. Such contracts require a worker to join a union to remain employed after a period of work, usually 30 days.

The amendment proposal reads: "No employer or labor organization shall deny or abridge the right to work by requiring membership or nonmembership in, or payment or nonpayment of money to a labor organization as a condition of employment or continued employment in this state."

Spokesmen for organized labor say the drive seeks to make the open shop compulsory in Ohio. They assert the right to work term is a misnomer intended to turn back the clock to the days of the sweat shop and low pay.

The merged AFL-CIO plans a statewide effort to combat the proposal. The campaign includes voter registration of union members, formation of nonunion citizens committees and use of broadcasts, literature and various forms of advertising.

Workers in small towns already have been issued cards to pass out when they pay bills.

"Union-won wages made these purchases possible," the cards read.

Urged To Act

City councils are being urged to adopt resolutions against an open shop ban like the recent stand by that body in Akron where the Rubber Workers' Union is active. A similar stand has been taken by some religious groups.

Walt Davis, director of United Organized Labor and formerly with an AFL labor paper, said efforts are being made to avoid claims of intimidation or coercion of petition signers and circulators.

The right to work organization, headed by Frank J. Egner of Findlay, a truck line operator, made such claims recently and is preparing evidence in alleged new incidents.

Egner claimed that circulators, registered with the state have been contacted by union representatives in ways to warrant criticism and that merchants were threatened with boycott and picketing.

"Such efforts seem to be diminishing," a spokesman added.

He asserted that petition signers merely were showing approval of the right of Ohioans to vote for or against the open shop.

The organization is composed largely of members of trade groups, chambers of commerce and the like.

Vice presidents are Mrs. Chester A. Smith of Columbus, a past president of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs; Martin L. Davey Jr., head of the Davey Tree Expert Co., Kent, and Elton Kile, Madison County farmer-grain dealer and a member of the General Assembly.

The secretary is Edwin H. Davis, Columbus businessman; the treasurer, Calvin Verity, bank president of Middletown.

U.S. Plans Partially To Repay Cooper Tire Co. for War Loss

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Tuesday passed a bill to partially repay Cooper Tire & Rubber Co. of Findlay, Ohio, and Clarksdale, Miss., for money it claims it lost in government tire contracts during the Korean Conflict.

The bill, which still requires Senate action, will pay the company $616,911.88. The company claims its damages were $1,811,333.38.

The loss was incurred, Cooper stated, because it had contracted to make tires, tubes and camelback for the military in 1950 at fixed prices. Then the Korean Conflict broke out and the firm had to buy rubber at much increased prices.

The House Judiciary Committee, which cut down the original claim, stated in a report:

"It is clear that the Cooper Tire & Rubber Co. avoided bankruptcy and remained in business only because of its civilian business during the Korean War period . . . . The government should not take advantage of this situation."

In Findlay, Cooper President W. B. Brewer said:

"The House action was partial recognition of the hardship experienced by Cooper as a result of the contract arrangements."

He explained that at one time the company was near financial collapse, but added that it was now back on firm ground again.

Youth Activities

4-H CLUB

Three new members were initiated into the club when the Norton Busy Bees met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Robert Howald. They were Sharon and Karon Huffer and Susia Lauchee.

Carole Wiseman and Karon Huffer will give safety or health reports at the next meeting, June 5, at the Howald home.

GIRL SCOUTS

Brownie Troop 29 of George Washington School held its fly-up and investiture service Thursday after school with mothers of members as guests.

A special guest was Mrs. Eric Fritz, neighborhood chairman.

During the ceremony, troop members received their wings and Girl Scout pins. Refreshments followed the service.

Mrs. Carl Vanderhoof is troop leader and Mrs. Clarence Gross is her assistant. Also assisting with the program was Mrs. Jack Nelson.

A wiener roast has been planned by the group for June 5 at Lincoln Park.

Arrested on Warrant

Earl Alva Hiles, 35, of the Twin Oaks Trailer Court was turned over to Franklin County authorities Tuesday afternoon after his arrest by sheriff's deputies here on a warrant charging non-support.
